Attorneys Begin Final Arguments

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 6. — Opposing attorneys late today began final arguments in the murder trial of a university student who shot his roommate to death.

The case was expected to go to a circuit court jury tonight. The trial began Monday.

Handsome James L. Colvin, Jr., a University of Alabama junior, testified yesterday that he fired at Jerome Veazey, 27, Greenville, Miss., when the older student advanced on him with a knife.

The Lincoln, Ala., ex-GI said at a preliminary hearing that he and Veazey quarreled over noise of a party given by Veazey in their apartment the preceding night.

Colvin testified that he first fired Veazey not to fire, but to prevent him from opening fire.

By Milton Marmor
Singapore, Oct. 6. — (AP) — Communist guerrillas today killed British High Commissioner Sir Henry Gurney in ambush just three years to the day after he had taken charge of the bitter war to stamp out Red terror in the Malayan jungles.

Sir Henry's secretary and chauffeur and 13 soldiers in his armed escort were wounded as his conveyance nosed around an "S" turn on a mountain road north of Kuala Lumpur, capital of the Malayan Federation.

Lady Gurney, whose car was following the convoy, threw herself on the floor and escaped injury.

Witnesses said the 53-year-old Sir Henry was a victim of his own bold, yet calculating show of courage. More than any other official, it was his habit to travel the remote roads and jungle paths to see for himself how the war was going in this rich tin and rubber country.

A lean, cold-eyed administrator.

U. N. Forces Train Guns Where Reds Are Massed; Battle In Western Korea Imminent As Tanks, Infantrymen Go On Alert

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 7. — (AP) — Signs of an impending pitched battle in western Korea, more than 35 miles north of Seoul, were reported today by a U. S. first cavalry division staff officer.

He said the big battle was expected to develop during the day. Allied tanks and infantrymen were on the alert.

At dawn, American guns began laying down a barrage of white phosphorous and high explosive shells over the crags of the Yonchon Valley where Chinese Reds were massed.

Last night U. S. first cavalry troops and Greek infantrymen beat off heavy Chinese attacks in a night-long grenade and bayonet action north of Yonchon, a pooled dispatch reported.

Allied forces, driving the Chinese Reds before them, seized most of their objectives Saturday in their 100,000-man western offensive.

They had driven from four to five miles deep into the lines which the Communists had set up on the northern approaches to Seoul.

BROOKS BACKS BOGGS FOR GOV.

Representative Promises To Work For Election Of Entire Ticket

Shreveport, Oct. 6. — (Special) — Rep. Overton Brooks of the fourth congressional district tonight announced his support for Rep. Hale Boggs of New Orleans for governor. Brooks said he also endorsed the Boggs ticket and would work actively for it throughout the campaign.

Brooks praised Boggs as "a constant friend of the farmer, the working man and the businessman." He charged the present state administration with "blind, careless, ill-advised, corrupt leadership" and said Boggs would lead Louisiana out of "the black pit."

The full text of Brooks statement follows:

"Take advantage of the filling period for the Democratic primary to state my views on the race of governor which is now getting underway. I shall support the Boggs-Far-Governor ticket, as presently constituted. As a colleague in the house of representatives and as a friend, I have known Congressman Hale Boggs for many years. He is an honest, hard-working, conscientious and brilliant congressman and will make Louisiana one of its greatest governors. His record in congress shows courage, independence of action and a great deal of zeal for all causes which are particularly important to the state of Louisiana such as the attempted tide-lands grab by the United States."

"The oil depletion allowance and our community property system, and opposition to the St. Lawrence seaway. He has been a constant friend of the farmer, the working man and the business man; and he has been a fighter for national defense." His courage and independence of action, often in the face of the direct demand of the Washington administration, has won for this great leader the respect and admiration of others in your national congress. Affairs of our state have suffered in recent years by blind, careless, ill-advised and corrupt leadership. The time has come for new hands to lift us out of the black pit, into which our state has fallen, to the position of prominence and power which is rightfully ours. Under Hale Boggs,

UNION CHARGES CIO Blames Production Drop To Lack Of Planning, Failures, Mistakes

Washington, Oct. 6. — The CIO charged today that the nation's defense production program is falling dangerously behind because of "lack of planning... failures and mistakes."

The CIO committee on economic policy called on Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson to develop an over-all production plan in order to avoid "a serious failure" in the defense effort.

At present, the committee said, there is a waste of manpower and skills. Unemployment has appeared in some areas and structural steel shortages are slowing down defense projects, it said.

Bottlenecks should be sought out and broken "before they appear," the committee suggested. "An over-all defense production plan has been slow in getting started," the committee said.

"The shift in the scheduled pace of defense production is undoubtedly due, to a great extent, to the failure to plan the effort properly."

"It would be a serious failure on our part as a nation, if we slowed down the defense production effort any further. A substantial weakening of the mobilization effort would undermine our strength and that of the free world."

The "failures and mistakes" were exposed in Wilson's third quarterly report, Chairman Emil Rieve of the CIO committee said in a letter to the production

Farm Agents Advised To 'Localize' News Releases; Hold Fish-Fry Here

Farm Editor Addresses N. E. La. County Agents, Newsmen

By Bert Hatten

Walter Durham, agricultural editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, told northeast Louisiana farm agents Friday night they would get better consideration from newspaper editors if they would "localize" their press releases.

Durham was featured speaker for the annual convention of county agents and newspaper editors in this district. Durham's address preceded a fish feast at Riley's camp on the Ouachita river north from Monroe.

Some 75 farm agents and newspaper men attended the affair. Durham, originator of the "Plant to Prosper" program in the Memphis area, under the sponsorship of the Commercial Appeal, told the farm leaders that newspapers did not care to let unimportant news releases monopolize their columns when other news of a more pressing nature was available.

Durham explained why farm news with local interest was more acceptable. "Editors don't care about farm news that concerns some distant area. They know that such information has little appeal to their readers," Durham said.

"Give them copy with names and ideas of interest in their respective areas," he emphasized.

In explaining his "Plant to Prosper" program, Durham said the plan was not designed to tell farmers what to plant, how to market nor how to spend their money. "We are more interested in promoting better home living and improving farm life," he explained. The Commercial Appeal awards prizes each year to farmers, in the Memphis area, who demonstrate the greatest advancement toward this end, Durham explained.

Durham said conservation was strongly advocated and supported by the program. He said the program was not designed to discriminate against cotton, the traditional crop of the south, but that it was realized that diversification was the key to better farming and home living because diversification was one of the best methods of preserving farm land and preventing erosion.

Durham declared the program was "not a cure-all, but offers a way for the farmer to work out his own economic salvation." He said he believed that "all farm families could do better" regardless of their existing standards.

Durham, holder of the Rubin-Brigham award, launched the "Plant to Prosper" program with 1,800 members. Today the program claims a total membership of over 100,000. The Rubin-Brigham award is a national honor given each year to an outstanding promoter of agriculture. Known throughout the middle south for his work with agriculture, Durham was recommended for the award by Frank Alghren, his boss and editor of the Commercial Appeal.

County agents from the fifteen northeast Louisiana parishes awarded "Honorary County Agent" certificates to newspaper representatives for their cooperation with the educational program of the L. S. U. extension service. N. E. Thames is the district agent with the extension service in northeast Louisiana. He is highly regarded by county agents and farm people in this section.

This is the second year the convention has been held to better acquaint newspapermen with the extension service. Last year's meeting was sponsored by the Louisiana Power and Light Co. This year the fish-fry and refreshments were on the county agents who proved to be excellent hosts.

J. J. Joyce, Jr., Ouachita parish county agent, and Lt. Roy Byrd, of the local state police, turned out and cooked more fish than an army could eat.

In addition to newspapermen, six representatives of the Louisiana Power and Light Co. were invited guests at convention. They were: E. A. Hodges, of West Monroe and C. L. Osterberger, O. K. LeBlanc, Gerald McClendon, M. R. Williams and George Collins, all of New Orleans.

County agents and their assistants present were: Max McDonald and Assistant Alton Rayley, Madison parish; F. O. LeVasseur and Assistant Charles James, Tensas; C. P. Seab and Assistant Joe Milby, Concordia; Emmett Johnson and Assistant Bill Bickham and Clifford Dry, Catahoula; Guy Luno and Assistant Ardner Chesser, Franklin; Basil Dolnes and Sidney Reech, Jr., Richland; Raymond McDuff and J. B. Meredith, Morehouse; J. J. Joyce, Jr., Ouachita; Donald Hollis, Caldwell; Emmett Peterson and Carroll Eubanks, of West Carroll.

SAM'L GILBERT GIVEN CITATION

Lake Providence Marine Corps Member Commended By Major General

Lake Providence, La., Oct. 6.—(Special)—CWO Samuel G. Gilbert, U. S. marine corps, has been awarded commendation ribbon with combat "V" with citation which reads "For excellent service in the line of his profession while serving with a marine artillery battalion during operations in Korea from Sept. 15 to Oct. 3, 1950. Commissioned Warrant Officer Gilbert, serving as transport quartermaster of an LST, and also as a maintenance officer of an artillery battery, displayed great skill, courage and confidence in the performance of his duties. Throughout the Inchon-Seoul, Korea operations, he worked long tedious hours supervising the efficient unloading and maintenance of equipment and supplies. Though often exposed to direct enemy small arms, mortar, and machine gun fire, he displayed complete disregard for his own personal safety in performing his assigned duties in an expeditious and efficient manner, thereby setting an example for all who served with him and materially contributing to the success achieved by his battalion. Commissioned Warrant Officer Gilbert's conduct throughout was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service.

Awarding this commendation ribbon was carried in the Marine Corps Gazette, Leatherneck magazine, and the headquarters bulletin.

CWO Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gilbert of Lake Providence, was born at Dobson, La., in Wynn parish, and enlisted in the marines in 1925, now entering his 27th year of service. His enlistment was at Shreveport, La. Married to the former Miss Martha Lincoln, of Boston, Mass., a distant relative of Abraham Lincoln, she has been fortunate in being able to travel around with her husband and is now with him in San Diego, Calif.

Hon. Joseph Ransdell Round Out 93 Years In Unusual Life

Former Senator And Financier In Deep Imprint On Nation

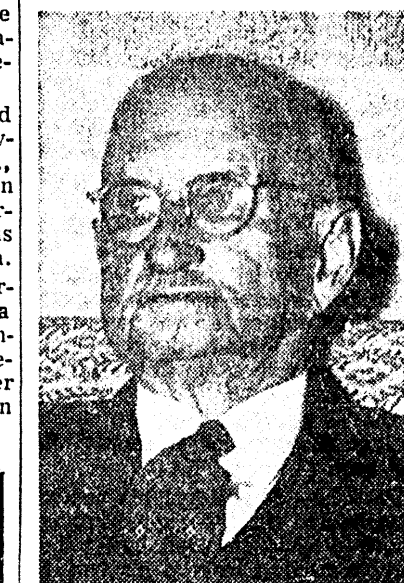

By Maude Van Fossen

Lake Providence, La., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Today, Sunday, Oct. 7, Hon. Joseph E. Ransdell celebrates his 93 birthday in East Carroll parish where he has spent 69 fruitful years and where he has many friends who with those from throughout the nation extend congratulations and well wishes for many more healthy and happy years.

East Carroll Parish Resources and Facilities financed by the East Carroll parish police jury and published in cooperation with the Louisiana department of public works, carries this tribute to "Senator" Joseph E. Ransdell: The Honorable Joseph E. Ransdell, now 93, is able with undiminished intellectual vigor to look back over a long and remarkable public career concerning memorable chapters in the life of the parish, the state and the nation. He is indeed the favorite son of East Carroll.

Born in Rapides parish (Oct. 7, 1858) he came to East Carroll as a youth. After 12 years as district attorney, he was elected to the house of representatives from the fifth congressional district at a special election in August 1899 and took his seat in December of that year. He served for seven consecutive terms, or 14 years, until sent to the senate at the time of the great Democratic sweep led by Woodrow Wilson. He was sworn in on Wilson's inauguration day, March 4, 1913, and served until March 4, 1931 — three terms or 18 years — as senator, earning high honor in which state and community shared, in several domains of national policy besides flood control; (for example, in foreign affairs and public health).

REVERED RESIDENT

Hon. J. E. Ransdell

In foreign affairs his judgment and wisdom have been signally vindicated by time. In November 1918 he had besought President Wilson to appoint leading Republican statesmen as peace commissioners to the parish conference — a tactic which probably would have saved the fruits of victory. In debates on the ratification of the treaty he foretold the resurgence of Germany and a second World War if the United States denied the league and withdrew from western Europe; and he urged in vain a common sense adjustment in the bitter controversies that finally disrupted the Wilsonian program and fostered War II.

His record in public health legislation is equally distinguished. He authored the act of 1906 to eradicate Texas fever in cattle; the act of 1917 to create a national home for lepers — located today at Carroll, La.; and the act of 1930 to establish in Washington the National Institute of Health for ascertainment of the cause, prevention and cure of diseases of human beings.

But however distinguished his service in other fields, Mr. Ransdell stands preeminent among statesmen as a seer and pioneer in the modern movement for waterway improvement throughout the nation and for flood control in the Mississippi river watershed. Deeply conscious of the problem and well versed in it from personal experience of the high water menace, he had been placed on the rivers and harbors committee of the house at the beginning of his second term and served there for 12 years. Despite the minority position of the Democrats in that era, his knowledge and energy brought him early recognition and corresponding influence as a national authority on flood control matters. In the senate, Mr. Ransdell placed at once on the commerce committee, which included in its jurisdiction waterways, harbors and flood control. He remained in this committee for the entire years of his senate membership until retirement in 1931. In 1931 in the Ransdell - Humphreys bill which he sponsored in the upper house, the first direct federal appropriation for flood prevention was provided for.

After the widespread overflow of 1927 which caused a $250,000,000 loss, the omnibus flood control bill of 1928 was passed with a dissenting vote. Senator Ransdell's was no longer a lone voice. His 27 years of tireless missionary efforts and the corroboration of his pronouncements in the tragic events of 1927 had brought the nation abreast of him. He was no one of the many; and short memories might forget that, perhaps more than any other man, he had initiated and publicized the idea, and sponsored the laws that became reality in the gigantic modern flood control system of the Mississippi valley. If great constructions are but the "lengthened shadow of a man," they stand also his monument.

On February 26, 1950, at Lake Providence, Senator Ransdell received the rare honor reserved in the church for the most distinguished Catholic laymen throughout the entire Christian world — the investiture of commander of the Knights of St. Gregory.

So today the many friends throughout Louisiana remember and are grateful for works well done and for a friendship which has lasted throughout the years — has been firm and true, and which we express hope for continuation for many years to come.

Baseball Mighty Thriller

Nothing in the world has ever been able to demonstrate more dramatically than baseball that while there is life there is hope and that a single stroke can swing one from the depths to the heights, or vice versa.

In Wednesday's National League playoff game, the home run by Bobby Thomson changed him from a goat to a hero, changed the New York Giants from a defeated team to a glorious victor and plunged the Brooklyn Dodgers from a chance to meet the New York Yankees in a World Series down to virtual oblivion.

One blow of a bat erased the hopes of one baseball team and sent the members of another team into ecstasies.

When the Giants went to bat in their half of the ninth inning, virtually every Giant fan in the United States had given up hope. Thousands of those listening on radios were almost ready to turn off their radios. They had given up; they just stayed on because there seemed nothing else to do.

Then came the one crack of a baseball bat that changed history, as far as the sports world is concerned. Those who had been hilarious were suddenly subdued and those who had been sad suddenly were hysterical with delight.

Baseball is America's great game and one of the chief reasons for that is that there is always hope that the team that is behind may suddenly smash across the necessary runs to win the game right up to the last second of play. This occurs sometimes in other games but not so often or not often so dramatically as in a baseball game. Americans are lovers of excitement and baseball gives it to them, often in such dramatic fashion that even non-baseball fans cannot escape the thrill.

The final playoff games between the Giants and Dodgers was enough to thrill the soul of a sphinx.

The Irresponsible Smoker

Negligence is a curse that dogs the tracks of civilization. Here are always those who refuse to take responsibility seriously. An individual who intentionally burns down a use and cremates a living person, or burns down a barn of animals, or ignites a forest, or destroys someone's property by fire, is punished as an arsonist. And yet careless smokers who are not apprehended and punished use hundreds of deaths and millions of dollars of property damage annually, including destruction of irreplaceable wildlife. They create havoc through negligence instead of intent but the results from their acts are as deadly as though premeditated.

Smokers who use no caution in the handling of a cigarette are a menace. They refrain from throwing a match to flammable material—but not a cigarette. They may light a match around a gasoline pump—but they will not make a cigarette. They hesitate about tossing a match into dry grass—but not a cigarette. They pour water on a campfire—but turn right around and drop a cigarette. What is it about a cigarette that numbs the individual to its deadly qualities?

With knowledge of the destruction cigarettes cause each year, is it not possible to make the smoker conscious of his responsibility—to make him realize that cigarettes are fire and not chewing gum?

Major 'Weapon'

In any war, the railroads are a major "weapon." They are as essential to the military effort as guns, tanks and planes. In World War II, our railroads carried 90 per cent of the war freight and 97 per cent of the organized military travel in this country.

The extent and capacity of a nation's railroad industry, therefore, is an extremely important barometer of its ability to defend itself should the need come. And here we have a very great superiority over the Soviet Union. The Soviet's rail capacity is estimated at about 30,000,000,000 ton-miles a year. By contrast, our railroads moved 737,000,000,000 ton-miles in 1944 and have an even greater capacity today. General Bradley recently said that transportation has always been one of Russia's weaknesses in the Far East, due to the fact that she has only one railroad line.

The American railroads are determined to give the country more and still better rail service. Since the end of World War II, they have placed in operation some 370,000 new freight cars and 12,000 units of locomotive power, costing about $3,000,000,000. Two billions more have been spent for improvements to their fixed plant—tracks, terminals, signals and so on. In 1951 alone, their bill for improvements of all kinds will total $1,250,000,000.

We must have an ever-progressive railroad industry. We must see that the industry receives the steel and other supplies needed for expansion—and we must allow it to charge rates which will permit a fair return on the huge investment. A strong railroad industry does much to help make and maintain a strong America.

Lacking In Diplomacy

Although able, finally, to match Russia's military strength gun for gun and plane for plane, the United States will be overshadowed in one department of government unless the administration is willing to learn by experience. Commonly referred to as diplomacy, it isn't exactly that in Russia's case. International intrigue is a better description.

While the state department fumbles the ball, the Soviet government works behind the scenes, taking advantage of every mistake Washington makes and turning it to Russia's advantage.

When Washington failed in China, the Communists made hay, and the result is U. S. involvement in war in Korea. Largely as a result of Communist intrigue, the situation in Iran is being turned to Russia's advantage, and the great petroleum resources of that country may pass into Russian hands.

Russia has moved one nation after another into the Communist sphere by moving into power vacuums, while Washington fumbled and failed. That was true in China and is also true of many of the countries which have become Russian satellites.

Interest In History

State historical societies and local and national bodies are arousing increased interest in the history of the United States, which is frequently more interesting than fiction.

In Kansas Kirke Mechem has resigned as secretary of the Kansas State Historical Society after 21 years, leaving a record of achievement which will grow in value during the passing years. Much history was made in Kansas.

Largely through Mr. Mechem's initiative and effort the history of the state has been made of permanent record through the filing of important records and documents, and an almost complete list of Kansas newspapers covering the past 75 years. This newspaper collection, much of it microfilmed, is described as the most complete in the nation. The library is rated as second to none.

A complete record of the Indian tribes of Kansas is also available in microfilm. Mechem leaves an almost complete record of Kansas history for future generations.

Much of America's regional history has been neglected, and as the years pass recording the events of the early days will become a more formidable task.

"The Reds planned it that way." That's the opinion of staff officers who were saying a year ago that the Communists had not expected U. S. resistance in Korea, and were convinced they would quickly gain control of the whole peninsula if the Americans did send in troops.

Their exultation over the so-called "upset" of plans undoubtedly drafted in Moscow was the result of the Inchon landing by General Douglas MacArthur, a classic operation which wrecked the North Korean army as a fighting force.

But a backward view over the intervening year shows that when the Korean Communists suffered a terrific setback, which Moscow could have anticipated, a huge Chinese army was ready to go into action, and did invade Korea within a matter of weeks, sending UN forces into a retreat which was a near disaster.

Only the quality of American fighting men and their UN allies saved the free nations forces from a debacle. But the smartest Red planning to trap the UN high command, unveiled shortly after General MacArthur had been relieved and the state department had taken over direction of the Korean campaign, to carry out the wishes of President Truman that the Korean fighting should not involve Russia, was the vague peace feeler put out by Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik before the United Nations assembly, and the result: a "cease fire" fiasco. There is a bitterness around the Pentagon that wasn't noticeable even a month ago, as all branches of our armed forces realize that another winter of fighting seems inevitable, and that the restrictions on UN forces have not yet been lifted.

Like most bait offered the free nations by the Communists, that of the "cease fire" negotiations was taken sincerely. The interval gave the Reds a chance to rebuild their badly mauled forces. But the losses mean little to the Russian masterminds, our military planners are reflecting, so long as they are Chinese satellite troops.

A review of recent weeks indicates the following, they say. (1) The Red forces have lost some ground but have clung tenaciously to key defense points, from which they will be extremely difficult to dislodge during the Korean winter. As a result, the outlook for a sustained UN drive to retake North Korea is not encouraging.

(2) Communist forces have been training hundreds of jet plane pilots for future warfare. Again, reports that the Reds have lost more planes than our Air Force are meaningless, so far as they are concerned, for the training their fliers are getting, without using their most advanced type of jet, is invaluable to the Red air armada. It is of course, equally valuable to our Air Force.

(3) The extensive mobilization of Communist armed strength requires that both sea and land forces have an opportunity for training of command personnel in actual combat, though Russia is not ready for all out war. The limited war in Korea gives that opportunity, and so long as the situation there remains as it is, the Communist high command is not too eager to end the Korean war.

(4) The inability of General Matthew Ridgway to lay down an effective ultimatum - as General MacArthur wanted to do and, it now appears, might have done - has encouraged the Communists to defy the UN forces. If Washington decides to direct air attacks on Communist bases in Manchuria and Communist China, Moscow will take a chance, in order to learn how effective such attacks will be.

Our Children

THE VALUE OF SCHOOL
By Angelo Patri
It is possible to teach any intelligent, healthy child so much material covered by the course of study for his grade in a few weeks. Why, then, do we keep him in school for six months, spreading the subject matter over that space of time? It is because we know that what the child learns of the subject matter is not so important as what his association with his classmates and the leadership of his teacher allows him to absorb in terms of character and mental growth.

Children learn more from each other than they do from direct teaching of adults. Terence, an only child, entered school in the third grade. His parents had a tutor for him during the first years of his formal education and his behavior when in contact with other children led them to see that his isolation was doing him no good.

The pupils of this class were engaged in a study of their neighborhood and had reached a part of the project where a play put on for their parents was under way. The teacher whispered to Molly, a leader of a dramatic group. "Could you take Terence in? He's new and—"

"Oh, sure. Come along, Terence. Come along where? Think you're bossing me? You've got another guess," and this scared rabbit of a boy assumed a truculent attitude.

"Oh, all right. See if we care," said Molly. "We've no time for duds," and immediately went to work on the play. Now the class separated into groups, each bent on developing some part of the project. Terence stayed on the sidelines. Soon his isolation became painful. He retired to his seat and nobody so much as glanced in his direction until a boy who was painting a poster discovered that his hands were sticky with paint and he wanted to hang up his poster to dry. He looked around for help but everybody was busy but Terence.

"Here, Bud. Lend me a hand, will you? I'm all stuck up."

Something in that appeal went right home to Terence. He went over and said, "What do you want me to do?"

"Your hands are clean. Take this by the corners and tack it up here on this board." Soon Terence was Terry. Soon his new-found friend was cautioning him, "If you want to have fun you gotta dig in and help. See? Like you helped me. The kids are all right. They'll like you if you pitch in but if you don't they won't. See?"

It took Terence quite a while to tell. Once or twice he was smartly told off by one of the workers he interfered with, once he got a slap from a little girl he pushed out of his way, often he was shoved into his place by a busy, absorbed classmate, but in time he saw. He saw something that no tutor could show him, felt what isolation would forever deny him, the friendliness, helpfulness of the group, the warmth of companionship, the knowledge of humanity's way with humanity.

New York Day By Day

THE RED FEATHER
I was politely put off the air last Sunday night to make room for the Red Feather campaign which is, in each locality, our most intensified charity drive. As silence is golden and charity the greatest of all virtues, I contributed silence to charity.

But when the time came that usually finds me prophesying, like my ancestors, against the evils of our times, I turned on the radio to listen to exhortation to pleas, to orations and sermons on the virtues of charity. Instead there were bits by Bing Crosby, Dinah Shore, Schenozzola Durante and others - meritorious bits on their own but unassociated with the subject. Ray Milland did list some of the charities and it all ended with a short and hurried speech by President Truman to the effect that there were some things that the government could not do, which was, for him, an enormous admission.

Sometimes we ask ourselves why it is that Europeans and Asiatics do not understand us. We have spent billions of dollars trying to tell them about ourselves to little avail. But do we understand ourselves?

Certainly, whoever arranged that Red Feather program does not understand the American people; he does not grasp their seriousness, their generosity, their essential charity and good will. Here is a people that has established a vast number of hospitals, orphanages, homes for the aged, schools, colleges, universities, every type of social service out of the charity of private individuals, without government assistance or intervention.

And this radio program was the exact place to tell that story, cogently and dramatically. But what does whoever arranged it do? He puts together a typical benefit with big stars doing what they know best how to do, but nary a word der to learn how effective such attacks will be.

Even if some supply bases should be hit and some troop concentrations destroyed, the Communists will obtain valuable information for use in event of air attacks on Russia itself. The question asked here is "What would be accomplished by attacks over such wide areas?" The answer is that nobody knows.

United Nations air power used in ever increasing strength since the beginning of the Korean war has admittedly been of limited effectiveness.

If this is an accurate summary - and many Pentagon armed service authorities are convinced that it is - it bears out the conviction that the Communists have overall plans to take advantage of every eventuality. By "egging on" the new Chinese Communist government to take over the Korean war, the Kremlin speeded the unification of China under the Red flag, an inevitable result in any country.

Whatever was discussed between General Ridgway, General Omar Bradley and Charles E. "Chet" Bohlen, Russian expert of the state department, at recent Tokyo conferences, specialists here are at a loss to see how it can expedite the end of the Korean war until Russia chooses to shut it off.

Letters to congressmen and to other friends of Korean GI's are full of expressions of disgust at the failure of the "cease fire" negotiations to make any progress. Those are the same GI's whose fighting qualities and whose bravery have saved the UN negotiators from complete humiliation.

Notebook

New York — (A) — The average American takes the weather and his daily newspaper for granted. Both play a big role in his life, but he isn't particularly interested in how they come about.

He accepts the access to the truth that a free press gives him as a natural right - like breathing. He is only dimly aware of an ever - present danger: that if governments succeed in any way in gagging or blinding his free press his right to know what is going on will then be at the mercy of seeing - eye politicians.

He will be told only what the politicians want him to believe. News men aren't ordinarily given to bugling their calling. They like it and let it go at that. But since this is national newspaper week, I'd like to tell you something about a guy more important to you than you know or care - the telegraph editor of your own newspaper.

Hollywood has made the public aware of two stock caricatures in our craft - the cigar - chewing, rough - barking managing editor, and the brash hard - drinking star reporter who gallops into the office shouting, "Tear open the front page, chief, I got the story."

But, so far as I know, no movie ever made a hero of the telegraph editor. Nobody ever built a monument to him. No grateful reader ever left him a million dollars, or even took him by the hand and said, "Gee, you did a swell job today." As a matter of fact the average reader probably thinks a telegraph editor is somebody who counts the telegrams for Western Union.

Well, what does he do? Who is he?

He is the man through whom the American people get their ideas about the world beyond their own home town, and what is going on in that world. He picks from the mass of news that pours across his desk all day the significant items you ought to have to understand the world you live in. That's pretty vital to you.

What kind of man is this, who has the earth for a front yard? Often he is a guy who never left his own state but can tell you the inside politics of Iran or the latest market quotation on a Hong Kong dollar. He usually has a hobby - growing roses, studying the life of Napoleon, or dreaming about how nice it would be to live on the island of Bali.

His greatest exercise is a daily battle with the city editor. There is only so much space in a newspaper. The city editor wants to fill it with hometown news. The telegraph editor naturally wants to fill it with national and international news. Neither will ever be happy until somebody invents rubber type and rubber paper.

That's my pinup - boy - of - the - week - the telegraph editor. Some dull day, dear reader, drop into your favorite newspaper, ask for him and just say, "Thanks."

But don't be surprised if he drops down dead. If there is one thing a telegraph editor isn't used to - it's gratitude.

Truman Sensing DOWN SOUTH

ENDOWED UNIVERSITIES
It is the claim of officials of privately endowed colleges and universities that these institutions are the greatest bulwark in the country against the encroachment of state control. They therefore appeal to private enterprise for financial aid as one of the best ways to preserve the American free enterprise system.

Someone ought to pose a question to many of these officials, and I suppose right here is as good a place as any. Does private enterprise depend upon the preservation of independently endowed universities, or do these endowed universities depend upon the preservation of private enterprise?

Supporting the former view, I quote below a statement made before a group of businessmen by the president of one of our large Southern universities for whom I have the highest regard:

"If we bring up the next generation in a country in which health, education, charitable belief, and old age are taken care of by the government, you need not expect that business will be made a grand exception. You cannot be saved by yourselves. If independent education goes under, if the free professions go under, you haven't a chance."

We can well agree with this university president that private enterprise will not be allowed to exist in a so-called welfare state, but supporting the latter view of the question, we are inclined to believe that this president is getting the cart before the horse when he says that if independent education goes under, private enterprise hasn't a chance.

Private enterprise existed long before our privately endowed universities existed. In fact, these universities were established with the profits of private enterprise; their very existence is due in large measure to the generosity of those who accumulated the means to establish them under the American free enterprise system. Perhaps what this particular university president means is that the universities and business have a mutual interest - and that is certainly true. Private enterprise cannot exist under state control. Independent universities cannot exist without private enterprise. Therefore, the independent universities should be the strongest opponents of state control and the strongest proponents of the free enterprise system.

Regrettably enough, however, there are many, many cases where higher education in this country is lifting the hand that feeds it. Illustration after illustration could

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

WATCH THE COURTS!

Manners are the exterior manifestation of morals. When the manners of a people are debased, it needs to look after its morals. In our courts and before various semi - judicial investigations, a disrespect for the dignity of the courts and the law is being displayed which would be intolerable anywhere, but more so among a free people whose order of life is controlled by a voluntary acceptance of law.

In a despotism, it is possible to say: "Off with his head!" And off it goes. In a free society rigorous protections are placed about the individual to safeguard him against tyrannical and whimsical acts of public officials. But the citizen can only safeguard his liberties and protections if he practices self - restraint, if he is respectful and decent, if he recognizes that while all are equal before the law, one may be contemptuous of it.

The 11 Communists who appeared in Judge Medina's court and acted like hoodlums set a bad example, to be followed with vulgar impudence by Harry Gross in Judge Leibowitz's court in Brooklyn, and before the New York commission.

Harry Gross made a mockery of a court, making it obvious that increasingly those who live on the margins of society have become so bold that they respect nothing - not the law, not the courts, not the dignity of judges.

Criminals have always existed. But such men, in the past, lived in fear of being caught. They were bold and brazen until they faced stern justice and knew the majesty of the law, as evidenced in a court.

The new breed of hoodlums, having no morals and believing that all men are corruptible, look upon our courts as marketplaces and upon judges as current or potential crooks. Their only problem seems to be to find the right politician who will know how to bribe the particular judge.

I have been told by lawyers that there has been a notable falling away of good manners in the courts; that not only laymen but many lawyers act impudently in the courts, flouting the judges, and giving the impression of familiarity, which is the first sign of contempt. I have also been told by lawyers that some judges tend to be lenient because they recognize that the lawyer is trying to impress his client that he is earning his fee. When judges are lax and lawyers forgetful of their manners, it must be accepted that a debasement of morals has set in.

The manners and morals of a people are set at the top. What is propriety is determined by the style of those in authority and position. When the leaders of a nation are vulgar, indecent in manners and morals, when their language is cheap and blasphemous, when they associate with petty crooks and political panders, when they themselves grow rich in public office or tolerate abuses among those who are close to them - the style of corruption will have been set.

These are responses to the same lack of self - discipline. And it goes as high or low as you like in American life today.

I noticed, traveling the roads this summer in an automobile, the disregard of drivers for traffic regulations, particularly the drivers of big and heavy trucks who are fast pushing the taxpaying citizen off the road. Naturally, it is impossible to police all the roads of this country all the time, but we must assume in a free society that men will restrain themselves, police themselves. It must not be assumed in a free society, that the police are to be called in unusually, that citizens, recognizing the law as a majestic keystone in the arch of social existence, will obey it without police action.

In a moral society, such self-discipline can be depended upon. It is handed down from father to son as the decent way to live. It is used to be called manners and those who failed them were ostracized by clean - living people. But when a Mickey Cohen is pitted as a product of his environment, we are dealing not with manners, morals or justice but with social corruption.

Editors Roundtable

TRUMAN'S PROPOSAL

To a very large minority of editors President Truman's drastic proposal that Federal officials - executive, legislative and judicial - be paid out of the Treasury is justified. But majority opinion is that such a law, even if substantially effective, would be an unjustified invasion of the privacy of such officials, most of whom editors agree are honest. Majority opinion also is that Mr. Truman, knowing Congress would not approve his proposal, is making a political gesture, when he should be setting an example by "cleaning up" his own administration.

Harford (Conn.) Current (Rep.): "Mr. Truman would have all officials on salaries of $10,000 or more report under oath all income from other sources, including gifts of furs, cameras, mink coats, deep freezers and what-have-you. To this he would add all officials, no matter what the salary, who received money or goods in excess of $1,000 for outside activities. He is certain that would cure evil-doing in high places. Perhaps so. But perhaps the dishonest will find loopholes in a new law, just as they do in their income-tax returns today. Laws and more laws are not a reasonable substitute for decency in government."

Charlotte (N.C.) Observer (Ind.-Dem.): "What is needed, and has been needed, are higher moral standards of ethics in government circles, from top to bottom. Enactment of a law will not make honest men of dishonest public officials. But a law requiring them to make public record of all income and the sources doubtless would curb the dishonest, as they would fear the results of exposure. And it would prompt those on the borderline to steer clear of questionable practices involving financial gain for themselves while in office."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "The basic objection to the President's proposal is that it would invade the privacy of thousands of officials. Public men ought to be presumed innocent of improper conduct until proved guilty of it, and they are as fully entitled to this presumption as private men. We agree with the president that the vast majority are above suspicion of dishonesty. His proposal would tend to discourage men having private sources of income from going to work for the government. Mr. Truman frequently complains about his difficulties in recruiting able, top-flight men from industry."

Birmingham (Ala.) News (Ind.-Dem.): "There are unappealing, even regrettable aspects of revealing all such incomes, but these are overshadowed by the importance and urgency of safeguarding federal operations from corruption and irregularity and undue influence. With that shrewdness he often displays, Mr. Truman has proposed action that should both help protect government and strengthen popular confidence in it. And at the same time it provides an effective, though, of course, not a conclusive, counter move to criticisms in this connection."

San Diego (Calif.) Union (Rep.): "The decline of morality in government is not due to the Congress or the judiciary, but almost entirely to the executive department. One or two members of Congress have been found guilty of abusing their official prerogative for personal gain. Mr. Truman, advocating legislation to preserve the integrity of the legislative and judicial branches of the government, is another case of the dead quaking scripture. If he will clean out his own official household he can talk with better grace."

Christian Science Monitor (Ind.): "If the plan Mr. Truman proposes is adopted it will show many Congressmen with outside income and about what it means to a people to give charity — to run their own show as God gives them to see and do the right.

For charity is of the same emotional and spiritual fabric as liberty. Taxes are something altogether different. Taxes are enforced. They are taken from us. We are neither the judges of the amount nor of the time of giving. We are taxed for things that we believe in and things that we oppose. We are taxed for good management as we are taxed for waste and profligacy.

Charity is voluntary and is of the heart. Look about your own city and see the wonderful institutions that are the blossoms of a deep emotion, a memorial to a beloved father, a mark of love for a son shot down in war, an act of devotion by a handful of women, a cause nurtured with care and patience by a few devoted persons many of whom could hardly afford the money or time they gave to it.

This is the spiritual expression of man in good works, in inspired service to his fellows. Few of America's magnificent charities or even educational institutions started as big projects. Most of them are by-products of church work. Such universities as Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, to mention only a few, were founded really as church schools. Most of our great hospitals and medical centers — certainly the older ones — were founded as adjuncts to churches.

Yet, not one word was said of all this on this Red Feather program which used the time of the networks simultaneously. In fact, nothing of any significance was said. The Voice of America expressed itself in doggerel and twaddle. We are silent about our virtues not because of modesty but because, taking everything for granted, we no longer recognize our virtues.

For we have virtues and we have a civilization and we need to speak of it constantly and repetitively that our young people may never forget it. In the American civilization, charity is not only a moral obligation, but it is a willingness that free men can perform services to mankind which in other civilizations remain a government promise but here are achievements on a grand scale.

The Community Chest is the joining together of men of different faiths, of numerous varieties of national and racial origin in the unity of charity. It is proof that the American individual, while retaining his peculiarities, can, in freedom, unite with others for good purposes.

employment — many entirely proper. But why has the FEC inquiry shielded every time it has approached the subject of influence exerted by congressmen to obtain loans? We need higher standards. We trust every measure for obtaining them will be pressed. These measures will be most successful if they themselves are ethical enough to play no favorites. Mr. Truman's proposal could be very useful. We hope Congress will give it earnest consideration.

St. Louis (Mo.) Globe-Democrat (Ind.): "The president knows his Congress. He must have known such a proposal would get a frigid reception on Capitol Hill, as it did. He will, however, now be able to tell stump listeners he pleaded for drastic action to stamp out 'improper conduct' and 'unfounded suspicions.' Congress turned a deaf ear. Congress, of course, won't pay much attention to the president's political request. It will object to publishing income reports of its own members. And it will consider, with justification, it is the job of the administrative branch to clean out its own stables."

be taken from textbooks and from classroom teaching where principles are promulgated among youth that are directly contrary to those on which the free enterprise system is based.

These teachers seem to consider it "smart," seem to consider it time-honored principles on which our economy in this country is based. But they ought to be honest about it. If they don't believe in the system which pays their salaries, they should quit being hypocritical and say so; they should no longer accept the salaries under false pretenses.

But, say the university presidents, we must preserve freedom of speech and freedom of thought; we cannot interfere with that. What a weak-kneed position! It is all right for the preacher in the pulpit to explain atheism but it is not all right for him to preach atheism; it is all right for the FBI instructor to explain safe-cracking but it is not all right for him to advocate safe-cracking; it is all right for the teacher in the classroom to explain socialism but it is not all right for him to teach socialism — not in a free nation.

Where does the fault for this situation lie? Even more importantly than with the teachers and textbook authors, it lies with the officials of the universities; it lies with the boards of trustees; it lies with those who send their children there for an education; it lies with those who make gifts to the universities. If these groups were interested enough, were energetic enough, were courageous enough to demand teachers with the right philosophy who would use textbooks with the right content, then the universities would be a great bulwark for the preservation of the private enterprise we have developed in America under a constitutional republican form of government; otherwise, they will not.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Oct. 6 — One of the most nauseating little items that I've read in some time appeared in a recent edition of a movie trade paper. It reported that a Minneapolis exhibitor - a man who operates a theatre called The Pix - had tried to cash in on the ultra-disgusting Tone-Payton-Neal scandal by rushing out and booking "The Dalton Woman," a film in which Tom Neal plays a part, and newspaper ads and on the marquee as "The Franchot Tone Slagger."

What an exceedingly low opinion of his customers that exhibitor must have had!

I'm putting that last sentence in the past tense because it is at least possible that the manager of The Pix has now learned how wrong he was. The people of Minneapolis instead of flocking in droves to see "The Franchot Tone Slagger," stayed away with such commendable unanimity that the picture had to be yanked from the program!

Thank Heaven for that!

Those of you who feel as I do about the persistent attempts of certain people in showbusiness to capitalize on scandal have little opportunity to make yourselves heard by movie producers. The men who boss the studios, thanks to protective walls built around them by their employees, live in an atmosphere too rarified to sustain the complaints of the ho-polloi. But you can make yourselves heard by exhibitors. And whenever any theatre man offers you an insult so gratuitous as the one I've called attention to here, you should make yourselves heard.

In our neighborhood is a seven-year-old boy who, I'm reasonably sure, is destined for stardom at some future date. He has amazing ability to carry any tune, no matter how complicated, is an uncanny mimic, has a phenomenal sense of humor for one so young, and possesses a pair of enormous brown eyes which can reflect a dozen different emotions - all strictly pretense - within the duration of a single minute. And his seven-year-old body houses an exhibitionist complex which, at this particular state of his development, is as big as he is. Every evening for a week he made it a point to visit us as we ate our dinner, and to give us a complete floor show. He would sing, dance, play scenes from movies, play imaginary gangsters with an imaginary machine gun, do "prat-falls" on the dining room floor, and imitate the celebrities he sees on his parents' TV set. One evening I ventured to ask him why he honored us with his performance instead of edifying his own parents. And his answer, delivered with a frankness that is extremely refreshing to one who has had to put up with the hypocrisy of adult entertainers. Contained, I think, the very essence of the spirit of show business.

"Because," said he, "you laugh at me - and they don't!"

The 20th Century-Fox musical, "Bells on Their Toes," will be at

PUBLIC FORUM

"LOVELY FLOORS" Calhoun, La. Oct. 5, 1951.

To The Editor: I'm just a disgruntled patron of the Calhoun school who has a gripe that can't be cured without a public airing and yet, due to the fact that "nice patrons" don't have "gripes," I beg for anonymity to save face and to save my child, who attends school at Calhoun, a bit of embarrassment.

First, let me say that we are very proud and happy to have some nice new additions to our school and want everyone to see the vast improvements that have been made, but please don't come, because you may mar the lovely floors! At least, that is the way our principal handed it to a group of Parent - Teacher members at their initial meeting of the year. They were requested to refrain from planning to use the gymnasium for entertainment purposes for P.-T. A., although the group has raised approximately one thousand dollars of which most of it was used for gym equipment, fancy suits and jackets, electric score board, etc., because the lovely floor may get scratched by the lowly parents wearing their "hob nailed boots" to participate in such a program. No form of social activity is seemingly approved and it was requested that donations from above mentioned lowly creatures be taken to provide beds, furnishings and equipment for a sick-room for the nice new building.

Of course, said principal forgets said lowly creatures pay the taxes that provide said lovely floors, since he doesn't happen to maintain residence in said town of Calhoun, and, as for that, in Ouachita parish.

Apologetically, I make these few remarks, because such things shouldn't be mentioned, especially since said principal seemingly represents the work of the P.-T. A. in this fine school and does nothing to encourage his fine group of teachers to aid and abet the workings of said organization, even to requesting their attendance thereof.

Signed: A patron

Thousands In Attendance At Louisiana Forest Festival

Pine Trees Are Shown From Tiny Seedlings Through Adult Stage

Winnfield, La., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Thousands of visitors from all over the state converged on Winn parish and its parish seat this week for the 1951 annual Louisiana forest festival and parish fair.

In the building devoted to forestry display the commission showed pine trees from seedlings through the adult stage. Displays of paper products from pulpwood, lumber products from logs, tide water cypress, and miscellaneous wood products were also brought to view.

The theme of the festival "Baro Lands to Finish Products" was watched upon by the most famous lumberjack of all, Paul Bunyan. The large imitation of the character measured, approximately eight or nine feet.

The fourth annual showing by Louisiana foresters ended Saturday with a coon - on - the - log contest.

Lee Grigsby, president of the fair association, and W. C. Postle, head of the Forest Festival Association, along with their committees and other workers, pronounced the festival as one of the greatest ever held in Winn parish.

Miss Joan Prestidge of Natchitoches was crowned Miss Louisiana Forest Festival of 1951 by W. H. Palmer, assistant state forester, Louisiana forestry commission, in ceremonies Wednesday night.

On Thursday, October 4, the festival's schedule got off to a start at 7:30 p. m. with a pulpwood contest. A prize of $25 was given to the contestant who made a cut on a pine pole in the shortest time, $15 was awarded the runner up and $5 was given to the individual placing third. Each contestant was required to make three cuts on a six or seven - inch pine pole.

The pulpwood loading contest followed the cutting contest with the prize team being awarded $50. The teams started in the cab of a truck and at a starting signal they got out, loaded the wood provided from the ground onto the truck, and remounted into the truck. The load had to be placed safe for highway travel. Separate contests were held for white and colored entrants.

Friday, October 5, was dedicated as school day with all parish schools being closed for the day. At 2:30 p. m. two youths made desperate attempts to climb a greased pole. One youth finally succeeded in obtaining the live dollar bill atop the pole after much effort by himself and on - lookers. A sack race was held next for youths between the ages of six and nine. A Winn parish marion was pronounced victor of the women's football throwing contest and awarded $5. The young marion threw the ball 75 yards for the victory.

The Winn parish Fox and Coon Hunters Association sponsored a bench show Friday night. The preliminaries for the coon - on - the - log show were also held Friday night.

On Saturday, the closing day of the festival, a log truck driving contest was held in the morning. Drivers were required to drive a truck and log trailer over a prescribed course, which included parking, turning, etc. New trucks were provided for the contest. Penalties were imposed for hitting hazards on the course.

At 2 p. m. Saturday a log sawing contest was held with the first prize being awarded the individual who cut a log in the fastest time. At 8 p. m. the finals in the coon-on-the-log contest were held with a prize of $74 going to the first place dog.

Farm exhibits also held a major place in the festival with numerous contributions from all sections of the parish. Prize cattle; canning, baking and other domestic arrangements were viewed by the thousands of spectators.

The Louisiana forestry commission extended to the visitors a clear explanation of the state's forest to the state's citizens.

The commission was established by the 1944 Louisiana legislature in order to bring the forests to full capacity. It provides fire protection to nine and a quarter million acres of forest land. Thirty - seven technical foresters are employed to assist the state's 105,000 small landowners. Forest tree seedling production has been trebled and the commission's information and education program has been intensified.

Governor Earl K. Long and his candidate for governor, Carlos Spauld, accompanied by John McKeithen and Mary Evelyn Dickerson visited the fair grounds Friday.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK IS SLATED

Nation Will Observe Fire Protection Week From October 7 To 13

With National Fire Prevention Week being observed throughout the nation October 7 to 13, now is the time for every man, woman and child in the country to check their knowledge of fires and fire extinguishers, and how to use them, warns W. Leonard Hodge, fire protection consultant.

To further emphasize the point, Wednesday, October 10, has been set aside as "Check Your Fire Extinguisher" Day. Employers and employees throughout the country are being urged to mark the occasion, which occurs midway through Fire Prevention Week, by taking specific steps to strengthen their fire defenses.

"Fire protection and fire prevention belong together," Paul W. Eberhardt, president of Fire Protection Institute, declared in announcing the date for this year's suggested check-up. "With fire losses for the first five months showing an increase over the same period last year, we cannot afford to be smug about our fire defenses in homes, factories, public places or on our farms."

As the first step in being ready for fire, Hodge urges that everyone learn the ABC's of fire fighting. Fires are classified in three basic types: Class A fires are those involving ordinary materials such as paper, wood, rubbish and similar items. Class B fires include such burning liquid as gasoline, oil, paints, fats and various petroleum products. Finally, Class C fires are those occurring in live electrical equipment, such as motors, switches and similar appliances.

The "Ten Cents for Tech X" drive to raise funds was sponsored by the sophomore class under the direction of the student senate. The Blue Jackets and "T" Club also assisted with the project.

Miss Betty Moore, daughter of Sid Moore of Monroe, a popular and charming entertainer on the Chicago and Southern Airlines, interviewed in Memphis, Tenn., upon returning from close-up witnessing of the recent hurricane in Jamaica and vicinity, told an interesting story. She is reported to have said:

"We simply didn't realize how bad it was until we saw Kingston the next morning. When we got up it looked as if the world had fallen around us."

The American Red Cross Gray Ladies are planning many events for guests at the St. Joseph home for Thanksgiving and Christmas when special parties are proposed.

Each Monday afternoon, the Gray Ladies will be found at the institution where they officiate in the writing of letters, taking patients to doctors, shopping, reading, and in fair weather they take a number for rides.

A quite unique event is held on the third Monday afternoon of each month when there is a birthday party held in the dining room for each guest who has a birthday during the month. Corsages are given ladies and the birthday cake is served together with punch or soft drinks. Bedridden patients are also remembered.

Two news commentators of nationwide fame are slated for appearance in Monroe shortly. The first to visit here in person will be Cedric Foster, heard on the Mutual and Yankee networks nationwide and highly popular with his hearers, as honored guest of the First Regional Clearing House Association. He will address the assembly at Bayou Desiard Country club at 10 a. m. Oct. 12.

The other noted radio commentator is Pauline Frederick, who will be in Monroe as guest of the Pilot Club and will speak at Hotel Frances at 8 p. m. on October 16.

Miss Frederick from 1940 to 1945 was a radio associate of H. R. Baukhage, ABC Washington commentator, and in her capacity covered Pearl Harbor Day in the White House, declaration of war in congress, the second Quebec conference, Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago, President Roosevelt's death from Washington; the United Nations conference in San Francisco and V-J Day in the White House.

No more celebrated personages than these two commentators have visited the Twin Cities for a long time and it is expected that the public will be delighted. The appearance of Miss Frederick will be on the Cherokee Terrace roof and it is expected that there will be a capacity audience present. The cost of obtaining such talent for Monroe is assuredly large and the Pilot Club is to be commended for making a real worth while financial venture.

Keith H. Hootsell, popular bus driver on the Park avenue route Friday saw a little girl evidently returning to school for afternoon classes, board his bus. But she was followed by a little black dog evidently her pet that had followed her from home. She returned to school, either the Georgia Tucker or Neville, and kind-hearted Hootsell took the puppy to his home at 1410 South Third street, Monroe. Now he wants to have the little girl call and claim her dog. He will be glad to see she gets it back again. His phone is 8613.

H. B. Murdock, of the News-Star—World who recently returned from a two-week vacation in the mountains of North Carolina, asserts that he roughed it and spent his time seeking close up acquaintance of the fish of the Tar Heel State. Since he returned it is reported that there has been experienced a sudden and lamentable declination in the ranks of the finny tribe in the afore said state.

ana Bankers Association, and there will be remarks by R. Irby Didier, secretary of the Louisiana Bankers Association. Then will come the principal address of the occasion by Cedric Foster.

There will be a cocktail hour from noon to 1 p. m. and luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. Election of officers will take place at this meeting.

The present officers are: President, W. P. (Buck) Sevier, cashier of the Tallulah State Bank and Trust Co.; vice-president, A. D. Bridger, president Caldwell Bank and Trust Co., Columbia; and secretary-treasurer, Robert Cowden, assistant cashier, Ouachita National Bank, Monroe.

From 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. on the night before the meeting, on October 11, there will be a cocktail hour held in the Lotus Club for bank officials and members of the clearing house association when a social get-together will be held.

The organization feels quite happy in that it has been able to secure the services of Cedric Foster whose name is a household word to all who listen to radio programs.

He is New England's only daily coast-to-coast commentator and is heard on the Mutual and Yankee networks and is known from Maine to Texas for his able and astute interpretations of news at home and abroad. Heard over more than 350 radio stations in every state in the union, Mr. Foster addresses a daily audience of more than a million persons because that audience has found him to be consistently accurate.

Cedric Foster, who became first day news commentator on the Mutual Network on October 1940, and who came to Boston with the Yankee network to continue broadcasts over the Mutual in 1941, was not satisfied to remain at his desk in World War One. He spent three months in the battle zones of the Pacific as an accredited correspondent to both the army and the navy. He was aboard an aircraft carrier as it rode to action off Japan and was with three infantry divisions in the Philippines. In these islands he rode more than 1,200 miles over rough terrain in a jeep. In his travels he has covered upwards of three-quarters of a million miles in the past 30 years.

friend with a bottle or a crucifix in a jealous quarrel June 9.

Her face haggard and lined, she pictured Jeanne—a former parish mate with whom she had once operated the tawdry hotel—as abnormally jealous of her associations with both men and women.

Her four-year-old daughter, Pierrette, played gaily nearby, oblivious of her mother's tragedy. Sylvie wept as she signed the statement.

It was made within a few hours after her arrival in police custody from Setif, North Africa, where she was trapped with the mustached Bel Sahel Mabrouk, another roomer at the Rue Neuve Hotel.

Quarrels came to a climax when Jeanne learned that Sylvie was to have a baby, fathered by Abdallah Souahli, an Algerian who lived in the hotel.

"Mad with anger, I shoved her," Sylvie said. "She fell on the bed. I seized a crucifix or a bottle. I can't remember which, and struck her. She remained motionless."

Sylvie and Jeanne met in the prison of Tourelles in 1946. Two years before, Sylvie had been deported from Nazi-occupied France to the German concentration camp at Ravensbrück.

She claimed she was a leader of the resistance.

After Tourelles, she saw Jeanne often, went to live with her in 1949 in the hotel Jeanne had just bought.

By then, Sylvie had two illegitimate children—one by a French worker and the other by a Spaniard.

Sylvie became the heroine of "Fragile, or the Basket of Eggs," a prize-winning French novel, without knowing it, after writer Jean-Louis Bory had seen her in the corridors of the Palais de Justice where she was awaiting trial for breaking into the home of her sister with an American G. I. in 1943.

Bory was struck by her wild personality, her slender figure, hollow cheeks and pathetic mouth. He wrote her into the novel which later won the Goncourt prize.

She was again the model for the central figure in a novel by Odette Amery called "Night and Mist," which told of an escape from Ravensbrück.

This special election will be set to fill the vacancy left by Judge E. L. Gladney, Jr., who will succeed R. M. Taliaferro of Shreveport in the first district court of appeals.

Born and reared in Monroe, Attorney Parker has practiced law since 1933 except for three years spent in the army during World War II.

He served in the state legislature from 1940 through December of 1942 at which time he resigned to become assistant district attorney. He remained in this position until he entered the armed services in 1943 and upon his return in September, 1947 he again assumed duties of this office.

He and his wife, the former Helen Womack of Little Rock, Ark., and their two sons, Bill and Steven, maintain a residence at 1704 North Second.

Mr. Parker is affiliated with the American Legion, Amvets, and is a member of the Grace Episcopal Church, where he also instructs a Sunday School class.

OUACHITA FAIR

The livestock barns are located on the south side of the fair grounds, several hundred feet from the main exhibit building.

Outstanding among the cattle exhibits will be one of Charbray cattle, a breed that has not yet spread extensively to this section of the country. The Charbray exhibit will be sponsored by Dr. D. T. Milam, of Monroe and Ben Burnside, of Newellton, who have a sizeable herd on the Burnside plantation in Newellton.

This will be the initial showing of the Charbray at the Ouachita Valley Fair. Through this exhibition, the Charbray is expected to gain the admiration of cattlemen in Northeast Louisiana and will probably become a familiar sight on pastures in this area.

In addition to the Charbray, most of the other more familiar breeds of cattle will be on exhibit and will be entered into the competitive judging. No judging is anticipated for the Charbray, as the Milam-Burnside exhibit is expected to be the only display of the breed.

J. J. Joyce, Jr., Ouachita parish county agent, has expressed that he is pleased to see that more Ouachita parish stock will be entered at the fair this year. He said that in the past "much of the finer livestock we have had come from outside the parish. This year," the county agent pointed out, "much of the better livestock will come from this parish."

Joyce's observation indicated a trend toward better livestock in Ouachita parish and more interest on the part of cattle growers in behalf of the fair.

Though cattle will be the big feature of the stock show, swine, poultry, sheep and other animals will be exhibited and up for judging.

The outstanding Four-H Club boy or girl, selected on his or her all-round merits as a Four-H Club member, will be awarded a Jersey heifer or with the compliments of the West Monroe Businessmen's Association. The Businessmen's Association gave a similar award last year.

The Ouachita parish cattlemen's association announced last week that it would give an artificial insemination to all first place winners in the cattle show. The services of the Cattlemen's Association's inseminator will also be offered to the winner of the Four-H Jersey heifer award.

Other features of the farm and home exhibits will be the corn show, sweet potato show, poultry, food preservation exhibits, barnyard linen and Four-H Club contests.

Several special exhibits will be sponsored by various civic organizations and industries.

Some of these are: poultry, Monroe Lions Club; forestry, Brown Paper Mill Co., Inc.; pastry, Monroe Kiwanis Club; barnyard linens, Civilians Club; Four-H Club dairy products, North Monroe Lions; corn show, West Monroe Kiwanis Club; sweet potatoes, West Monroe Lions Club.

These will be in addition to the West Monroe Businessmen's Jersey heifer award.

In addition to the numerous farm and home exhibitions, ranging from needle work to Charbray bulls, the fair grounds will also hold an array of thrilling carnival shows and rides.

The carnival shows will be conducted by Snapp's Greater Shows, of Joplin. Snapp's Shows are billed as one of the most ethical operators in the business.

The high commissioner and his party were driving from the steaming heat of the Malayan capital for a week end of rest at Frasers Hill, a resort north of the city.

A large band opened a heavy automatic fire from a jungle hillside 50 yards away when the three-car convoy was about two miles from a mountain pass leading to the hill station.

Mohammed Rashid, a wounded Malay police constable, said Sir Henry staggered from his Rolls-Royce sedan and fell face downward on the grass after the first burst.

Thirteen soldiers in an armored car returned the fire. All were wounded in the 20-minute battle. A radio van in the convoy also was damaged.

Sir Henry's car had two of its tires punctured by bullets. The driver was wounded as he jumped out.

Lady Gurney's driver, who was considerably to the rear, stopped when he heard the firing.

D. J. Staples, Gurney's secretary who was slightly wounded, brought her back to Kuala Lumpur today, along with Sir Henry's body.

emy lines in the west, reported little contact with the Communists west and northwest of Chorwon.

This was east of the first cavalry front, which was receiving some shelling Saturday night as its own artillery blasted away at the enemy.

In the east, American and French troops stormed the unpromising slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge" and won its commanding peak. Twice previously, in three weeks of bloody fighting, they had taken the height only to be hurled off.

In far northwest Korea, some 200 miles behind the Red front, 33 U. S. jets slashed into three times as many Russian-type MIG-15s. One American plane was shot down. The air force reported one Red fighter probably was destroyed and two were damaged.

There still was no sign that the Red-suspended armistice talks would be resumed. The Communists continued their silence on the issue of a change in the truce site from Kaesong to somewhere in no-man's land.

An eighth army headquarters officer said Saturday night that "it looks as if our offensive is nearly over."

"It looks as if the actions now will be reaction on the part of the Communists."

Earlier, Maj. Gen. Robert H. Soule said his U. S. third division in its three-day drive had breached the main Communist line northwest of Chorwon in west-central Korea.

Chorwon, 17 miles north of parallel 38, is at the southwest corner of the old Communist "iron triangle" formed by Kumhwa in the east and Pyongyang in the north.

The Chinese had withdrawn from many of their strong bunkers in the rolling hills. Of those who chose to fight, the third division killed 588, wounded 582 and captured 35 in the first two days.

The third division and the U. S. first cavalry division now stand deep in the staging area used by the Reds in past offensives toward Seoul, battle-battered old capital of the Korean Republic.

First cavalrymen hurled back a Chinese counterattack north of Yonchon and elements of the cavalry's seventh regiment rammed ahead, seizing a hill late Saturday. Smaller hills to the west and east also fell to the flame-throwing troops.

The Red Pyongyang radio asserted that all of these attacks were "smashed" with 4,000 Allied casualties.

Rieve wrote Wilson that the scheduled peak level of defense production has been pushed back three to six months, and this was deemed to be "of major significance."

"Instead of reaching the peak of our defense build-up in mid-1952, as previously scheduled, you now indicate that the peak will not be achieved before the latter part of that year," Rieve said.

These delays in hitting production targets represent "a failure to meet our obligations in a critical period of world history," Rieve said. He is president of the CIO-Textile Workers and a labor member of the wage stabilization board.

Rieve complimented Wilson on the "frankness and honesty" of his quarterly report and added that the CIO recognized "the difficulties inherent in the mobilization effort." He said his organization was "heartened" by the progress made thus far, but he said the $14,000,000,000 of military equipment and construction delivered to the armed forces since Korea "is hardly more than 4 per cent of our output of goods and services."

Bidding Is Sound
If It Brings Results

By Oswald Jacoby

"What is your opinion of the bidding of this hand?" asks an Atlanta correspondent. "West opened the ace of clubs, and East eventually got a trump trick, so the slam was set."

"Would you say that North or that South was guilty of over-bidding?"

Curiously enough, I'm not able to put the finger on either player. The bidding looks perfectly reasonable to me.

If North fails to bid three diamonds at his second turn, he doesn't deserve to get good cards. And when South rebids the hearts, North naturally raises to game in that suit.

play for the slam than North's actual hand.

Moreover, even on the actual hand South had a pretty good play for the slam. Suppose West had failed to take his ace of clubs. After all, aces are seldom led against slam contracts. If West opens a spade, South wins, draws two rounds of trumps, discards a club on dummy's third spade, and then runs the diamonds. By the time East ruffs, South has discarded all of his clubs.

Even when West makes the killing opening lead of the club ace, South still has a chance for his slam. Trumps have been known to break 2-2; or South may find a singleton honor in the West hand and guess the right play on the second round of trumps.

The mere fact that South did not make the slam this particular time does not mean that the hand was badly bid. The bidding should be considered sound if it will lead to successful results in the long run on similar hands.

Q-The bidding has been:

North 1 Diamond, East, pass, South?, West.

You, South, hold: Spades A-J 9-4-2, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds 3-2, Clubs A-K-10. What do you do?

A-Bid one spade. With another queen, with better distribution, or even with just a better fit for diamonds you would jump to two spades; but as the hand stands you bid. A jump response of three no-trump would not be bad, but you might miss a game that depends on a spade fit.

Today's Question
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-4-2, Hearts K-J-9, Diamonds 3-2, Clubs A-K-10. What do you do?

Now look at the bidding from South's point of view. North can easily have slightly stronger hearts and slightly weaker spades; and then the slam is cold. Or North can have the ace of clubs, in which case he can afford to have as little as three to the jack of hearts. There are dozens of hands that North can have which will offer a much better

CROWNED QUEEN

Miss Claire Regus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Regus, of Transylvania, was crowned queen at the Magnolia Home Demonstration club box supper at the Transylvania junior high school.

As shocking as the death of La Prensa was Czechoslovakia's imprisonment of American newspaperman William N. Oatis. The Communist Czech government imposed a ten-year prison sentence on frail and bespectacled Oatis because, in the opinion of a "kangaroo court," his routine reportorial duties constituted acts of espionage.

Oatis was seized, and the wrath of the western world aroused, last April. Held incommunicado for 70 days, the six-foot, 37-year-old newspaperman appeared in court so weak and dazed that he was almost unrecognizable. Denied his glasses, he stared at the floor, mumbled incriminating answers, as if from memory.

Today Bill Oatis sits in a cell, not much different from the one that printer Peter Zenger occupied more than a century ago. Both were guilty of the same "crime" — fearless and factual reporting in defiance of a tyrannical government. It can only be hoped that America's modern Hamiltons and Franklins will not for a moment cease their efforts to free Oatis, and defend that inalienable right Elijah Lovejoy died for — the right of the people to complete freedom of information.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Use Discretion In Canasta Game

"Just how wrong was I?" asks a San Francisco correspondent. "My partner and I had 3200 points and the opponents had 4500 points. This was the last hand (in all probability) of the last game for the evening."

"Before my partner or I had a chance to make our initial meld, the opponents had a red tory, their initial meld of 120, several other melds, a mixed canasta, and about six cards apiece in their hands."

"We finally made our initial meld and got up to a six-card meld. My partner then asked for permission to go out. I refused, knowing that we should surely lose the game if the hand ended then and there."

"As a result, the hand went on. The opponents tried to meld out, but couldn't quite manage. Meanwhile, my partner and I developed several six-card melds, of which three were made up of natural cards only."

"Just as I was beginning to hope, the opponents went out. The final score showed that they had beaten us by 1600 points."

"I was then scolded (not only by the opponents but also by my partner) for 'dragging the game out.' I insisted that I was going to play to win as long as there was a spark of life."

"Just how wrong was I?" The answer depends on why you play cards. In addition, you must consider the feelings of the other players and the lateness of the hour."

If it is just a family game and the hour is already late, the friendly policy is to resign cheerfully. Otherwise people will be reluctant to start a game with you if there is any chance that it will run past the time that they like to go to sleep.

If you're playing in a club or in a tournament, you don't owe that sort of consideration to the other players. If you want to fight tooth and nail, the other players must let you have your way and they have no right to beef about it.

In a tournament, your attitude would be 100 per cent correct. You keep fighting as long as there is the slightest chance to pull the game out of the fire. You never quit, and you have a right to expect your partner will be equally unyielding.

Gentry Home In W. M. Burglarized

A very particular thief broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel A. Gentry, 1502 Cypress street, between 2:30 and 6 p. m. Friday, and walked off with his choice of the household and personal belongings.

West Monroe city police were called to investigate the entering shortly after 6 p. m. when Mrs. Gentry, returning home, found the back screen door pried open and much of the house in disorder. No one had been arrested late last night, but police were working on several clues.

Although exactly what was taken had not been determined last night, it was known that shirts and shoes belonging to Gentry, Mrs. Gentry's wristwatch and a number of pieces of silver were stolen. Included in the loot were 24 silver coffee spoons.

Several bags of clothing and groceries were set near the back door in what was apparently preparation for a greater haul.

RUNS IN FIFTH CLINCHES POLO GROUNDERS' WIN

al Maglie Opposes Johnny Sain On Mound Today

earned — not even the three which scored on Lockman's line out into the stands near the right field line.

However, the Giants' first run in the second frame was clean and above board, and it looked almost the last that it was going to stand. Bobby Thomson opened the inning with a scorching double down the left line and scored a moment later when young Willie Mays at his first hit of the series, a single into right field. Previous to that, Willie had gone 19 or 1 in the playoff games and series.

Mainly because of his wildness, Sain was in mild difficulties in virtually every inning; he pitched, at times, with men on the paths the wildest righthander was a man to reckon with, and two double plays of him eased his work in the early innings.

In all, the Yankees left 10 runners stranded, at least one in each frame except the second and ninth. They couldn't get hold of Jim's curves in the clutches. He was a sad figure when he finally trudged slowly out to the clubhouse, because he had had a brilliant World Series triumph in his very grasp.

Joe DiMaggio, still batting cleanup for the Bombers, remained in a terrible slump against the Giants' twirlers. His four futile trips today, which included the only strikeout registered by Hearn, brought the Clipper's record for three games to 11-0.

Gil McDougald was the only Yankee to connect off Hearn more than once. He laced a pair of clean singles, one against the left wall and another past shortstop into center field. A single by Phil Rizzuto in the first inning and a bleeder toward first base in the second by Yogi Berra on which Lockman made a poor toss to Hearn were the Yanks' only other offensive gestures of the day, and they were not very offensive.

In the final analysis, it probably was a cute piece of baserunning by Eddie Stanky, scrapping little Giants' second baseman, early in the fifth inning which turned the tide completely. If Durocher's dandies hadn't made these five runs which came in the wake of Eddie's little stunt, Woodling's ninth-inning blow might have been the decider.

One was out and Raschl was looking very tough when the brat worked him for a walk on a 3-2 pitch. With Al Dark at bat, Eddie set sail for second. The ball was a pitch-out, and Berra's peg to Rizzuto at second was there in worlds of time. He made the tag with his gloved hand and Umpire Bill Summers gave the big out sign, but an instant later he changed it when the ball flew from Rizzuto's glove and rolled toward the outfield.

Stanky, who had ploughed into Phil hard, came off the ground in a flash and raced on to third as the Yanks, including Phil Stengel, gathered angrily around Summers. They didn't object, it turned out, to Eddie's kicking the ball out of Phil's hand. They claimed he never had touched the bag, but they couldn't convince Summers of it.

At any rate, the Yanks were sore and the panic was on. Dark poked a ground single into center field on which Stanky trotted home, and Hank Thompson, the Giants' substitute rightfielder, slashed another grounder cleanly into right, sending the Giants' captain to third.

Monte Irvin then took a full cut and sent a lazy roller toward Bobby Brown at third. Brown fielded it in a hurry and shot the ball to Berra well ahead of Dark. This time it was Plate Ump Joe Paparella who first signalled out and had to change his decision as Yogi dropped the pellet as though it were hot.

The zany events of the inning must have unsettled Raschl, for he wheeled in a fast one which Lockman loved, and the vast crowd had a field day as the three runners bounced around the bases to send the score to a safe 6-0. Stengel sent Raschl on the long, lonesome hike to the center field dressing rooms, and Bob Hogue came into retire the side.

Joe Ostrowski hurled the final two innings for the Bombers and escaped cleanly except for Mays' second single of the game with one out.

California Whips Minnesota, 55-14

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 6. —(AP)—California's Bears sounded a challenge for national football honors today with a smashing 55 to 14 victory over the Minnesota Gophers.

A crowd of 69,000, sitting in summer like weather, saw the defending Pacific Coast Conference champions pulverize the Big Ten Gophers with a ground and aerial attack that brooked no opposition. The strongest California team in years scored two touchdowns in every period.

Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf practically cleaned his bench in the rout, with third and fourth stringers taking over when the regulars left. Jolting Johnny Olszewski, California's fullback candidate for all-America laurels, carried the load in the first and third periods, packing the ball 17 times for 141 yards.

The Bears drove 80 and 70 yards for first quarter scores and went 40 and 61 yards to tally twice in the second period. In the third quarter they smashed 63 and 44 yards. The last period touchdowns followed advances of 76 and 49 yards.

It was the largest score rolled up against a Minnesota team in history.

EAGLES UPSET 49ERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 6. —(AP)—Two sensational touchdown pass catches by speedy Clyde (Smackover) Scott helped the Philadelphia Eagles upset the favored San Francisco Forty-niners tonight, 21-14, before 23,432 National Football League fans at Shibe Park.

DELHI TRIUMPHS OVER PANTHERS

District Champs Beat Lake Providence, 18 To 7

Lake Providence, La., Oct. 6. —(Special)—The undefeated Delhi Bears won an 18 to 7 victory over a hard-playing Lake Providence Panther outfit here in a Class B grid contest Friday night to strengthen their bid for another district championship.

J. C. Duchesne, big Bear guard, intercepted a Panther pass on the Delhi 14 and ran 86 yards for a touchdown early in the first quarter after the Panthers had threatened to score following recovery of a Bear fumble on the thirty-five.

Norman Derouen circled left end for the second Bear TD still in the first period after Pat Patterson caught a long pass from Milford Andrews at midfield and ran to the Panther fifteen to set up the score.

L. Clements plowed through center for the Panther score in the second quarter after his catch of a pass from Trieschman moved the ball from the 42 to the one yard line.

Taking possession on their 27 early in the fourth quarter, the Bears marched 70 yards in six plays with Charles Wylie, Rudolph Dozier, Patterson and Derouen alternating in carrying the ball to reach the four. End Wendell Robbins gathered in an endzone pass from Andrews for the touchdown.

The Bears earned seven first downs, gained 187 yards on running plays and made 130 yards on eight completed passes out of 13 thrown by Andrews. They drew eight penalties totalling 70 yards.

The Panthers got five first downs, made 55 yards net on run-

Southern Cal Wins Over Huskies, 20-13

Seattle Wash., Oct. 6. —(AP)—Rudy Bukich, a sub quarterback, fired up the Southern California Trojans and led them to a 20-13 upset victory over the Huskies of Washington today.

The unheralded reserve shot the Trojans into the lead late in the second quarter with a perfect pass to Cosimo (Scooter) Cutri. The play netted 57 yards to the Washington two. Jim Sears powered over and the Trojans went ahead, 13-7.

Both teams couldn't score in the third and the crowd of 47,000 was resigned to a loss for the Huskies, prime favorites to win the Coast title.

But hurrying Hugh McElhenney brought the crowd to its feet and gave Washington new hope when he snared a punt on his own goal line in the fourth quarter and rambled the full 100 yards to tie the score.

Then Bukich went back into action. He fired three perfect passes — to Frank Gifford, Cutri and then to Gifford again — to move the ball to Washington's two. With Washington set for another pass, Rudy took the ball and sneaked over for the winning score.

U. C. L. A. WINS EASILY

Los Angeles, Oct. 6. —(AP)—Sophomore Halfback Paul Cameron, as hot as the 120 degree weather on the floor of the coliseum, passed and ran the U. C. L. A. Bruins to a 44-17 win over Santa Clara today.

The 19-year-old, 180-pound back passed for four touchdowns and ran for two others. Red Sanders' Bruins racked up seven touchdowns in all.

ning plays and completed four passes out of nine attempted for 69 yards. They had one pass intercepted and were penalized once for 15 yards.

Illinois Scores In Last Period To Win

Campaign, Ill., Oct. 6. —(AP)—Illinois surged from behind for a fourth period touchdown today to defeat Wisconsin, 14-10, in a big ten game of lucky breaks and hot tempers.

While 58,207 sat in the stadium's murky gloom, the bitter conference rivals played a bruising, ragged battle that nearly reached hand to hand combat.

Illinois barged ahead 7-0 in the first four and one half minutes on a 71-yard drive capped by Johnny Harris, who stabbed across from the six yard line.

Wisconsin tallied at the outset of the second period and added a field goal for a 10-7 half-time lead.

BAYLOR BEATS TULANE; L. S. U. STOPS RICE

ISBELL STEERS RUGGED BRUINS PAST GREENIES

Texans Break 14-14 Half-time Tie To Win 27 To 14

By James Saggus
New Orleans, Oct. 6.—(Special)—Baylor Quarterback Larry Isbell scored one touchdown and passed for two others in masterminding a brilliant 27-14 victory over underrated Tulane today.

Isbell gave a near-perfect performance, punting Baylor out of holes, setting up most of the runs with his deceptive ball handling and passing with deadly accuracy. He passed nine yards to End Stanley Williams for the winning touchdown in the third quarter. Tulane's sophomore quarterback Pete Clement, turned in a sterling performance but he was no match for the cool Baylor senior when the pressure was on.

After scoring the first touchdown late in the first period on a beautiful 28-yard run after a fake pass, he passed to End Harold Riley for 12 yards and a touchdown.

The second score rubbed out the touchdown advantage Tulane had gained and left the halftime score a tie 14-14.

Robert Reid intercepted a Clement pass and returned it 56 yards for the final Baylor touchdown in the fourth period. C. O. Brocato missed the last conversion after making three in a row.

Reid's score gave Baylor a touchdown in every period while Tulane was unable to muster a scoring punch after halftime.

More than 35,000 summer-dressed fans watched the game under a sunny sky.

Ronnie Kent ran 10 yards for the first Tulane touchdown. Clement scored the second Tulane TD after faking a handoff and spinning through for the last yard.

Isbell turned in one of the greatest performances seen in the Sugar Bowl Stadium in recent years. His deceptive play made his team a threat every time he had the ball.

Isbell's touchdown was a masterpiece of deception. He faked a jump pass, ran over right tackle, cut back sharply to the left side behind slashing blocking.

The game lapsed at times into a punting duel with Isbell trading boots with Tulane Halfback Max McGee. McGee got off one for 73 yards and Isbell got a 70-yard boot.

Score by quarters:
Baylor 7 7 6—27
Tulane 7 7 0—14

Baylor scoring: Touchdowns, Isbell, Riley, Parma, Reid, Conversions, Brocato (3).

Tulane scoring: Touchdowns, Kent, Clement, Conversions, Comaux (2).

Jonesboro-Hodge Trips Jena, 20-13

Jena, La., Oct. 6.—(Special)—The Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers shaded the Jena Giants one touchdown in a hard fought game, 20 to 13, before a crowd of 2,500 here last night.

Travis Hall, the Tigers' leading scorer, shoved over two touchdowns, one on a 25-yard end sweep, and Joe Harverson added the other on a 75-yard dash. Kenneth Brown, the Bengals' point-kicking specialist, booted two to run his season's total to ten.

Coleman sparked the Jena offense, scoring twice on runs of 30 and 25 yards. He also pitched the pass for the lone Giant conversion.

Spectacular 'Destruction' Race Will Head Program

WILDCAT GAMBLE COSTS BALL GAME

Georgia Tech Pulls Battle Out Of Fire In Last Period

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Kentucky gambled for three yards in the final period today, but lost the football and then the game to Georgia Tech, 13-7.

Leading 7-6, Kentucky needed the three yards for a first down. Fullback Harry Jones failed to make them on his fourth plunge, and Tech took over on the Kentucky 35.

From there, a mixture of short gains and penalties put the ball on the Kentucky one, and Tech Quarterback Darrell Crawford sneaked over for the winning touchdown.

The crowd of 35,000 fans saw Kentucky, sticking to the ground, march the opening kickoff to a tally in less than four minutes. Halfback Emory Clark made the touchdown.

Undeclared Tech got its first touchdown in the third period as Fullback Glenn Turner bowled across from the three. A 68-yard run through the center by Johnny Hicks set up the play.

Kentucky almost recovered twice after its gamble backfired.

Turner started the Tech drive with a nine-yard advance and George Maloot got a first down on the Kentucky 24.

A series of plays and penalties set Tech back to the Kentucky 31 with third down and 17 yards to go. Then misfortune struck the Kentuckians again.

A pass was incomplete on the Kentucky 20, but a roughness penalty carried the ball to the Kentucky 11, with fourth down and two yards to go for a first down.

Crawford, surrounded by Kentuckians and seemingly trapped for a loss, pitched out to Pete Ferris on the one. Then a Tech fumble was recovered by Kentucky, but there was an offside penalty to nullify the advantage the Sugar Bowl champions would have gained.

Crawford scored from the one and that ended the ball game insofar as scoring was concerned.

Score by quarters:
Georgia Tech 0 6 7—13
Kentucky 7 0 0—7

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns—Turner, Crawford, Point after touchdown—Turner.

Kentucky scoring: Touchdown—Clark. Point after touchdown, H. Jones.

Purdue Rallies, Beats Iowa By 34-30 Score

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Rebounding Purdue scored in the last minute to beat Iowa today, 34-30, in spite of a three-touchdown performance by sophomore George (Dusty) Rice of Iowa.

Rice's sparkling show included a 100-yard touchdown run on the first play of the game.

One minute was left on the clock when quarterback Dale Samuels pitched the winning touchdown to substitute halfback Tom Redinger. The play covered 38 yards.

Purdue never led until the final touchdown, although it overcame a two touchdown deficit for a 20-20 tie at the half. It was nine points behind, 29-20, when Samuels threw two touchdowns passes late in the final period. Phil Klezek caught the first one on a 47-yard play.

manager stated, "We are pleased that we have been successful in arranging for the appearances of the finest daredevils in the southwest for the headlining event of the Louisiana Delta Fair. As always, we exert all possible energies to present only the finest events for all phases of the fair, and we feel that we have secured the absolute tops in sports when we present the thrill-a-minute stock car races on October 14.

"We have contacted the authorities of the Southwest Racing Association, and we have been assured that 20 or more thrillers will be on hand to pilot the hurtling race cars over the half-mile dirt oval at the Fair Grounds. The drivers scheduled for our fair event are the same group that has performed brilliantly throughout the southwest at all the major speedways, and who have just closed their 1951 championship season at the Louisiana State Fair Grounds raceway in Shreveport."

The fair manager also announced that the 1951 stock car championship trophy winner, "Red" Dowdy, of Dallas, Tex., has filed his formal entry for the event, and will be one of the large group of entries that will battle down to the wire for the winner's share of the purse money.

Another top-flight daredevil who will undoubtedly have a large following of rooters at the event is Monroe's colorful and handsome speed merchant, Claude Crenshaw. Crenshaw, who is a speedway veteran, climaxed the 1951 championship season at Shreveport on September 30, by winning both races that he entered, including the marathon 50-lap feature grind. Crenshaw was the first race pilot to file his entry for the fair event, and reportedly will be ready to repeat his success, driving the newly built racer, owned by another Monroevian, Hurl Johns.

Time trials for the race program will begin at the Fair Grounds oval at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, with starting positions in all of the races being determined by the time trial results.

The first four regulation races will be run from inverted starts, placing the faster cars to the rear of the lineups, and giving the advantage to the slower cars. The 5-lap feature race will be run from a normal start with the fastest time trial car heading the pack.

Guilfoil also stated that as a special added attraction, the track will be the scene of the world famous "Destruction" race, immediately following the feature race.

The "Destruction" race has filled the largest stands in the southwest, drawing 10,000 fans in Houston, Tex. The one idea of the fantastically spectacular event is for each entrant to try to demolish the other cars in the event. The last car remaining in running condition on the track is the winner of the race, and crashes, smash-ups, rolls and spins are a dime a dozen as the death-defying daredevils use every trick of the trade to knock the other drivers and their cars out of running.

FERRIDAY TAKES OAK GROVE, 33-6

Bulldogs Score In Every Period To Defeat Tigers

Oak Grove, La., Oct. 6.—(Special)—The Ferriday Bulldogs handed the Oak Grove Tigers a stinging 33-6 defeat here last night, as the visitors scored in every quarter and maintained command of the game all the way.

Oak Grove failed to come through with gains at crucial moments throughout the game and Ferriday capitalized on all breaks in handing the Tigers their worst defeat of the current season.

Stewart scored Ferriday's first touchdown in the initial period on a week-side reverse, romping 17 yards. Westbrook's kick for the point was good. In the second period, Perkins received a Tiger fumble on Oak Grove's 22. McNew gained 11 for the visitors and Able scored in a nine-yard end run. A pass for the point was knocked down.

In the third quarter, Marks gained 17 to Oak Grove's 24. McNew picked up 10 yards on a quarterback sneak, and Oak Grove was penalized for roughness, placing the ball on the one-yard line. McNew scored on the second try on a quarterback sneak. Westbrook's kick for the point was good. Nix fumbled on Oak Grove's 32 and McNew recovered for the visitors. On the next play, Stewart went all the way down for the TD on a weak-side reverse. Westbrook's kick for the point was no good.

Midway of the fourth period, Smith kicked out on the Oak Grove 49. On the next play, Bryant went from the 49 to the one on a weak-side reverse. Book scored on a quarterback sneak. Westbrook's kick was good.

Oak Grove received the kickoff and Moreau returned it to his 40. Harper gained eight over tackle; Nix gained four through the middle; Nix then gained eight, 12 and 11 yards in three plays, putting the ball on the Ferriday 19-yard line. Harper scored on the next play. High's kick for the point was no good.

Northwestern Spoils Army's Bid For Upset

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 6.—(Special)—A desperation, 33-yard touchdown pass with a minute and a half left gave Northwestern a 20 to 14 victory over Army's inspired football leftovers before 40,000 today.

George Harben, who lost out to George and Jack Curtis in a tag team event at Gus Kallio's Arena, has challenged the brothers for another match Tuesday night, selecting "Big Boy" Cronin as his partner.

Harben, a Stone Mountain Ga., matman, entered the dressing room at Kallio's after his defeat last week and told his partner, Rube Wright, that he hated to quit while he was losing, but that he would like to have another partner go against the Curtis brothers from Vicksburg, Miss.

"I don't think I can find a better partner than you," Harben said. "Which one of us would have a better chance against them with a different partner?"

After similar statements from Wright, who also wanted a return bout with a different partner, they decided to flip a coin for it and Harben won the toss. Harben then said that he would get Cronin for his partner, and so it was arranged.

Harben and Wright didn't have much luck against the Curtis brothers last week, losing the event in straight falls and getting pretty badly beaten up in the process. Jack Curtis, former world's light heavyweight champion, mopped the floor with them in both falls, while his brother used more wrestling skill than he did the roughhouse tactics which the other three displayed throughout the match.

Harben, a gigantic bearded growler, selected as his partner this week another large matman of similar build and should, with any luck at all, be able to overpower the slighter built Curtis brothers with brute force.

However, Jack and George are old hands at the wrestling game and employ a lot of skill along with enough roughhousing to get along, whenever they find it necessary.

George Curtis lost his bout here two weeks ago while wrestling in another tag team match with Doran O'Hara as his partner against Harben and Wright, but returned the next week with Jack as his partner to take his revenge on the other pair.

The tag team match will be the main event of the evening and will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win. There will be two short semi-final events between opponents from the different tag teams.

Longhorns Storm Tar Heels, 45-20

Austin, Tex., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Texas as found the running attack it has been searching for today and combined it with a proven defense to crush North Carolina, 45-20.

Left Half Gib Dawson, a 170-pound speedster from Douglas, Ariz., finally ran the way Texas coaches knew he could, and hit paydirt twice. He opened the Longhorn scoring by catching Quarterback T. Jones' 10-yard pass in the end zone.

North Carolina's Tar Heels cracked right back with an 87-yard drive. Fullback Dick Weiss took the ball on a spinner and drove through his left guard eight yards to put North Carolina briefly in the lead as Able Williams kicked the extra point.

But the blistering Texas attack was just getting warmed up. Stung at being behind for the first time this season, the Texas Longhorns smashed to three touchdowns in five minutes.

Score by quarters:
North Carolina 7 0 6 7—20
Texas 18 18 7 14—45

Texas scoring: Touchdowns, Dawson 2; Ochoa, Jones; Pace, Mays, Smith; conversions, Dawson 2.

North Carolina scoring: Touchdowns, Weiss, Wallace 2; conversions, A. Williams 2.

NORTHEAST BLASTS WAY PAST LIVINGSTON

TEACHERS BEATEN BY RUGGED TRIBE ELEVEN, 33 TO 22

Alabama's Passes Constant Threat, But Indians Tough

The Northeast State College Indians used a spectacular running attack with just a sprinkling of passes to offset the aerial show of the Alabama State College eleven from Livingston here last night to master the Teachers, 33 to 22, in one of the best offensive shows seen at Brown Field in some time.

Backing the offense was some mighty rugged defensive work on the part of the Northeast line and defensive backs, and they forced Livingston to the air for most of the visitors' gains.

Livingston hit first when Bernard Bradford rammed over from the two for the first of two touchdowns he scored. He got his second on a pass from Cecil Reddish in the third period, and Reddish, in the final quarter, took a touchdown pass from Bob Coley for their last. The Teachers also collected a safety in the last quarter.

Vince Zappone, Ed Plonsky, "Duke" Rush and Greg LeBlanc contributed the Indian touchdowns, Rush going over for two, while Francis Baker booted three conversions. Zappone, Plonsky, and Rush got their touchdowns on runs from inside the Livingston 20, while LeBlanc, who was the pass-catching star of the Tribe, got his on a toss from Lloyd Ray.

Northeast's defensive lineup of Baker, Joe Marione, Lloyd Andrews, Rex Pennington, Robert Parker, Ralph Shelton, Joe Harrison, Ronald Gunter, Buster Crowley, and Bob Gunter, plus their understudies, spoiled the Livingston ground game and forced the visitors to the air. The Gunter boys, no kid, played particularly great defensive games.

The Tribe rolled for 17 first downs against eleven for the Teachers. Northeast rushed for 240 yards, completed four out of six passes for 115 yards, and lost 62 rushing. Livingston got only 100 yards rushing, but completed ten out of 22 passes for 138 yards. The visitors lost 78 yards rushing.

The invaders got the jump on the Tribe early in the first quarter when Tackle Bill Querner covered an Indian fumble on the Redskins 21. Five plays later Livingston scored with a 7-yard pass, Reddish to Hal Stryker, and a 35-yard drive by Benny Bradford featuring the drive to the two from where Bradford rammed through left tackle to score. Joe West kicked the point.

Northeast took the following kickoff and slashed 66 yards in a drive of five first downs to the Livingston one. The Tribe drew a five-yard penalty for offside, but Zappone ripped off left tackle for the touchdown. End Francis Baker kicked the tying point.

The half lacked a minute and a half of the finish when the Tribe went ahead after Dub Rush had set the stage for the score with a 35-yard run to the Livingston four. Plonsky carried it the rest of the way right through the middle. Baker missed the conversion attempt, but Northeast led at the half, 13-7.

A Northeast fumble started the Teachers on a touchdown drive from the Tribe 48 where Tackle George McCall covered the bobble. The Teachers went to the air, Reddish completing two tosses to Stryker to the 17 and then firing a touchdown toss to Bradford in the end zone. West's kick failed.

Downing the kickoff on their own 35, the Tribe needed just five plays to go all the way, a 39-yard pass, Ray to Greg LeBlanc sparking the drive to the 17. Rush made it the rest of the way in two line plunges. Baker kicked the point.

A minute later Baker covered a Teacher fumble on the Livingston 13. A fumble lost four, Zappone got one at the middle, and Ray then fired a pass to LeBlanc in the end zone for the score. Baker's kick was wide.

The Teachers struck back quickly, running a punt back to the Tribe 24 from where Coley passed to Bradford for the touchdown. West kicked the point, and the Tribe trailed only six points.

Downing the kickoff on their own 40, the Indians came right back, a pass to LeBlanc by Ray netting 20 yards to the 23. A five-yard penalty against Livingston, and an 18-yard left end run by Rush brought the fifth Tribe TD. Baker booted the point.

Livingston took up some of the slack moments later by blocking a Hubenthal punt that rolled into the end zone and off the field for an automatic Livingston safety and two points.

Livingston Ends-Randall, Kimbrough, Ramsey, Nellum, Stryker, Tackles-D. McCall, Querner, G. McCall, Boggs, Guards-Garner, J. Moore, Boone, C. Moore, Centers-Bullock, Dubois, Backs-Reddish, Bradford, Cotton, West, Anderson, Adams, Daprano, Young, Sinder, Bush, Falls.

Holy Cross Snaps Win Streak For Fordham

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 6.—(AP)—After assuring itself its famed forward passing attack was in good working order, Holy Cross settled down to its running game today to snap Fordham's nine-game victory string with a crushing 54-20 victory.

MICHIGAN STATE EDGES BUCKEYES

Spartans Get Run For Money, But Win 24 To 20

Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Michigan State's sparkling Spartans proved their right to the ranking as the nation's No. 1 football power today when they surged back from a 10-point deficit in the final quarter to defeat seventh-ranked Ohio State, 24-20.

In a wild finish reminiscent of Notre Dame's three touchdown last quarter surge which whipped Ohio in 1935, the Spartans came to life with scoring marches covering 74 and 46 yards within a three and one-half minute span after Ohio had taken a 20-10 lead.

The payoff punch was a beauty—a 27-yard pass from sophomore Halfback Tom Yewcic to Quarterback Al Dorow on fourth down.

Dorow lateraled the ball to Yewcic, who cut off to his right, while Dorow headed for the left sideline and scooted toward the goal. Yewcic's long pass across the field hit Dorow around the 10-yard line, where he shook off two tacklers and fell into scoring territory with the points his team needed.

Ohio ranked seventh nationally this week and was favored to win the Big Ten. Michigan State is not eligible for the Big Ten title.

Although he did not figure in the scoring, much of the credit for the Spartans' victory must go to Leroy Bolden, a 165-pound, five-foot, seven-inch halfback. The yearling caught passes all over the field and ran over, around and through the Ohio defenders.

Each team held the lead twice in the torrid first half, after Capt. Bob Carey of Michigan State opened the counting with a 16-yard field goal halfway through the first period.

Michigan State 37 0 14—24 Ohio State 6 7 0 7—20 Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns: McAuliffe, Dekker, Dorow. Field goal: R. Carey. Conversions: R. Carey 3.

Ohio State scoring: Touchdowns: Hamilton 2, Janowicz. Conversions: Janowicz 2.

DUKE NO MATCH FOR TENNESSEE

Vols Win 26-0 To Knock Devils From Unbeaten Ranks

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 6.—(AP)—An alert Tennessee team scooped up Duke fumbles and turned them into touchdowns today to smash the Blue Devils from the nation's unbeaten football outfits, 26-0.

A shirt-sleeved crowd of 45,000 witnessed the game in 91-degree weather.

Tennessee, the nation's third ranked team in the Associated Press poll, showed marked improvement offensively over its opening game. The Vols scored once in each quarter—twice on passes and the other two on running plays.

Duke was a thoroughly beaten club. The Southern Conference visitors, who piled up 53 points in tramping South Carolina and Pittsburgh, never were able to get a sustained drive under way.

The closest Duke got to Tennessee's goal line was the 25-yard stripe late in the second period. This threat died when linebacker Gene Moeller of Davenport, Iowa, intercepted a pass by Jerry Barber, Duke's flashy freshman quarterback.

Vicious Tennessee tackling jarred the ball loose from Duke backs five times in the first half. Four times the Southeastern Conference Vols pounced on the ball and twice they turned the bobbles into touchdowns.

WALLY FOWLER RETURNING HERE

Famed Oak Ridge Quartet
Leader Will Be Again
Presented Oct. 13

Wally Fowler, all-night singing man, and his famous Oak Ridge quartet of WSM, Nashville, Tenn., returns to Monroe on October 13 to bring one of their great gospel and spiritual concerts at Ouachita Parish High School Auditorium. Doors open at 6:30 p. m. and program begins at 8:00 p. m. Advance tickets are on sale at Walgreen's Drug Store.

Wally Fowler and his Oak Ridge quartet are nationally famous, having appeared on the NBC portion of radio station WSM's "Grand Ole Opry" for more than five years, featuring their gospel and spiritual music in their own imitable style. In addition to their radio work, they have appeared in and filled to capacity some of the nation's largest churches in the country. The quartet was organized at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and their organization has been a musical bomb shell, exploding to greater heights of popularity each day.

The Oak Ridge quartet has made several successful recordings, including, "It Is No Secret," "Mansion Over the Hilltop," "Journey to the Sky," and many others, and is now recording on the Wally Fowler label which features the "Record of the Month Club." They have released several popular numbers.

Members of the quartet include Wally Fowler, known as "the all-night singing man," Joe Allred, first tenor; Pat Patterson, who is sometimes M. C. for the Oak Ridge quartet, baritone; and good looking Bob Weber, bass. Glen Allred, playing the guitar and young Bobby Whitfield, loaded with personality and rhythm, is at the piano.

This program is sponsored by the Church of God, 809 Montgomery St., West Monroe. Further information can be obtained by dialing 6718, Mrs. Naomi Knighten.

WESLEYAN GUILD SLATED AS HOST

Will Entertain La. Conference Wesleyan Group
Here Oct. 21-22

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the first Methodist Church will be hostess to the Louisiana Conference Wesleyan Service Guilds when they meet here in Monroe for their first week-end conference on October 21-22. Heretofore, the Wesleyan Service Guild which comprises the employed women's membership of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, has been recognized in conjunction with the W. S. C. S. conference when they convene in annual session. The W. S. C. S. conference will be held in the same church on the succeeding Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of the next week. Because so many business and professional women are unable to avail themselves of the opportunity of attending a mid-week session, this year, for the first time, the Wesleyan Service Guild will conduct its own conference. Outstanding speakers and leaders engaged for the W. S. C. S. conference will also be in attendance at the W. S. G. conference.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church is a most active organization with Miss Ola Mae Pennington as its president. Its membership of more than 65 women is well prepared to entertain the initial conference and many excellent plans are already under way. The conference secretary, Miss Mary Gladys Page of Amite, La., and the district secretary, Mrs. Minza Rabun of Bastrop are working with the hostess guild in preparatory plans. The theme of the conference is "Being Christian in a Changing World."

Registration will begin Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the educational building of the First Methodist Church, with Miss Maude Brownlee, chairman of registration. At four o'clock the guild delegates will be guests to a tea in the spacious home of Mrs. E. N. Jackson on Roselawn. The sacrificial supper Saturday evening will be served in the halls of the First Baptist Church and the evening session will follow at the First Methodist Church. Sunday morning breakfast will be at the Virginia Hotel, with the business session which follows. The delegates will attend morning worship at the First Methodist Church, and following a buffet luncheon the conference will close. It is expected that a large delegation will attend from guilds throughout Louisiana.

PLAN K. C. DANCE AT SELMAN FIELD

Cooperate With Progressive Men's Club On Oct.
12, Columbus Day

On Friday night, October 12th, Columbus Day, Monroe Council 1337, of the Knights of Columbus, will have their annual dance at the Progressive Men's Club, Selman Field. Ben Burton and his orchestra will provide the music for the occasion and dancing will begin at 9:00 p.m. The general public is invited to attend and enjoy the evening.

For the past several years, the Monroe council has celebrated Columbus Day with such a dance and all have been most enjoyable and successful. The members of the council have worked diligently that the occasion may be fittingly celebrated. The Progressive Men's Club is an excellent and appropriate place for the dance and can adequately and comfortably accommodate the large crowd that is always present.

The chairman of this year's committee is Joe David Cascio, who is also an officer in the local council. He and his committee assure the guests of the Knights of Columbus of a wonderful time. The committee has placed tickets at convenient locations in Monroe so that they are available to all.

In addition to the local celebration, there will be a special broadcast for Columbus day carried over a coast to coast network by the Mutual Broadcasting System. This program will be broadcast locally by KLTIC at 3:45 p.m., Monroe time, on Friday, Oct. 12th, and will feature an address of John E. Swift, supreme Knight, from New Haven, Conn.

Edith Haas Is September Bride Of Martin Israel

Bridal Couple Exchange Vows Of Impressive Service
In Cameo Room At Virginia Hotel

In a ceremony marked by simplicity Miss Edith Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haas, was joined in marriage to Martin Israel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Israel of Worcester, Mass.

The marriage was solemnized at the Cameo room of the Virginia Hotel September 23 at eight o'clock in the evening in the presence of relatives and close friends. The Rabbi F. K. Hirsch officiated.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her wedding gown of blush pink lace over satin. The dress, ankle length, was fashioned with a deep set yoke of nylon net applied on the tight fitting bodice of lace. The long lace sleeves coming to points over her hands were fastened with tiny covered buttons which also adorned the back of the bodice. Her veil of fingertip length fell gracefully from a Juliet cap made of lace. Her bouquet was of pink tuberose centered with a white purple throated orchid and cascade streamers of pink satin ribbons.

Miss Trudy Weil of Alexandria was maid of honor. She was attired in a lovely Nile green taffeta dress also ankle-length, with accented green net stole, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Mr. Sam Chase of Worcester, Mass., uncle of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Julius Cahn, Jr., and Morris Haas, Jr. Mrs. Haas, mother of the bride, was wearing a pale blue lace. The groom's mother, Mrs. Israel, was attired in grey lace. Both wore orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the same room. An artistic arrangement of pink gladioli and asters adorned the refreshment table. Silver candle holders held pink tapers. Punchbowl was placed at both ends of the table.

Mrs. Jacob Strauss, Mrs. Helene Cymbal, Mrs. Arthur Bruock and Mrs. Murray Bernstein alternated at the punchbowl. The bride's table was covered with a beautiful imported outwork cloth. Resting on a huge mirror was the exquisite wedding cake, a double-heart confection of pink, decorated beautifully in deep pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Surrounding the reflector was pink net and satin ribbons. At each end of the table were silver compotes which held pink mints with lilies of the valley. Silver trays held individual wedding cakes. Minnette Smith, Louise Doernberg and Brigitte Cymbal passed trays of sandwiches and small cakes. Sue Snyder of Bastrop held the bride's book and Mrs. David Snyder of Bastrop presided at the cake.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla. For traveling Mrs. Israel wore a stunning suit of navy wool gabardine with gold blouse. She wore a navy hat trimmed in gold with other accessories of navy. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet. After October 15 the young couple will be at home in Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. Israel is a graduate of Neville High School and attended Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Israel is a graduate of Washington University where he majored in engineering and architecture. He is a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity. He is now associated in the construction business with his brother, Mr. Israel served as a pilot during World War II. He is a first lieutenant in the reserve.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Israel, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Chase of Worcester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. David Snyder, Sue and Charles Snyder, of Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kern and daughter, Lynda, of Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Kahn, of Bastrop, Mr. Steven Benedict of Dallas, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lowenthal of New Orleans, and Mr. Hessel Cahn of Baxley, Ga.

The Fairbanks Home Demonstration Club met for its regular meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Edward Travillion hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. E. J. Sackett and Mrs. O. J. Hamm led the pledge to the flag. Roll was called and minutes read and approved.

Reports were heard from various leaders and Mrs. Sackett gave information on different subjects of interest.

Mrs. O. J. Hamm was named committee chairman for the fair booth. The booth was discussed and arrangements made.

Meeting was adjourned and the hostess served delicious refreshments to Mrs. O. J. Hamm, Mrs. J. P. Mc Knight, Mrs. E. J. Sackett, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Allen Rhodes and Mrs. Florence Clark.

New Books Added

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Two hundred and twenty-five new books were added to the collection of the Ouchita Parish Public Library in the month of September. This includes books of every type and duplicate copies for the various branches. However, there are still many new books to choose from.

Fiction remains the most popular type of book borrowed from the library, although non-fiction is steadily growing in popularity. "With All My Heart" by Margaret Campbell Barnes is a fascinating historical novel, which she does so well. "The Picture Window" by Josephine Lawrence is another of her stories of middle class American life. "The Golden Ass" by Lucius Apuleius is a new translation of a medieval scholar. Many of you who read it in the Latin during college days, will want to read it again. "All Else Is Folly" by Catherine Gaskin is concerned with the problem of international marriages in a war-torn world. "The Shepherd's Crook" by Paul Frischauer has for its background the Huguenot immigration to America. Since the Huguenots settled in South Carolina and since so many of us have some of their blood in our veins, this book should be particularly interesting.

Thomas Mann is considered by many critics to be the greatest living novelist. His latest work is "The Holy Sinner." This is a unique story of symbolic values, glorifying the divine mercy above the pettiness of man. It is beautifully written and will appeal to those who enjoy Mann. William Faulkner, who received the Nobel prize for literature last year, has a new novel called "Requiem for a Nun." This is a story which might be compared to a Greek tragedy in the starkness of its plot. It is one that you will not want to miss.

Irving Stone has a facility for writing biographical novels that present a true character of the subject and that still make fascinating reading. His latest work is "The President's Lady." This is the life of Rachel the wife of Andrew Jackson. He recreates with vivid description the turbulent period in which Andrew Jackson and his wife lived and we see again the greatness of Jackson.

Mystery stories are always in demand and there are several new stories of that type. "Anna, Where Are You?" by Patricia Wentworth is another of her fascinating Miss Silver stories. "Murder in the Family" by Mary Hastings Bradley is another thriller. "Poisonous Relations" by Joanna Cannan is another book of this type. Doris Miles Payne is a very popular mystery writer. Her latest story is "Strawman." Earl Stanley Gardner has a following that waits eagerly for his next book. His latest is "The Case of the Angry Mourner." "I Could Murder Her" by Edith Caroline Lovaac and "Cook up a Crime" by Charlotte Murray Russell are two others for the crime following.

The Jalna stories have been popular for a number of years and another one of this series is always welcome. "Renny's Daughter" has just been released and is already in demand. Another series that is very popular is the Williamsburg stories written by Elswyth Thane. The first one began in the colonial period and was called "Dawn's Early Light." Miss Thane has brought this same family on through the Civil War, the Spanish American War, the First World War and her latest story is laid in the period when Hitler was preparing the way for the Second World War. "This Was Tomorrow." If you like to read a book about thoroughly pleasant, nice people, you will want this. Irwin Shaw, who writes well has produced a new book called "The Troubled Air" in which he discusses the practice of some group in labeling everyone Communist who does not think as he does. It is a challenging book, but somehow falls short of the author's earlier works. John P. Marquand is one of the outstanding modern writers. His latest story is called "Melville Goodwin, U. S. A." It deals with the career of a naval officer and shows many features of the life. As usual Marquand is a discriminating writer and his book should be popular.

"The Red Lion Inn" by Robert Payne is a historical novel with the setting in England. "Harbin's and World War. It is called about the Kentucky mountain region. "Behold Your Queen" is a fictional account of the life of Queen Esther in the Bible. All of these books are available at the Ouchita Parish Public Library. It is your library, so be sure to use it.

Mrs. J. H. Stringer Is Guest Speaker At PTA District Meeting

It is always a great pleasure to all P-T. A. members of the 5th district to have the privilege of hearing Mrs. J. H. Stringer, of Baton Rouge, La., state president of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Stringer, with her vivaciousness and enthusiasm, stimulates the interest of every listener. The subject of her address, "Legislation is Everybody's Business" is of great importance to every one. And, even though some may not have given it a thought prior to the district conference in Columbia, October 4, Mrs. Stringer's presentation really made "legislation" the most important subject in the minds of her listeners as they left the auditorium.

Even though the two very important bills, backed by the P-T. A. have been presented several times to the legislature, the state president renewed the hopes of all in attendance that, with the presentation again in the coming legislature, these bills may go through with flying colors.

The bills above referred to are: (1) Appointment of the state superintendent of education; (2) distribution of school funds on daily average attendance basis.

The 5th district P-T. A. conference members were given a hearty welcome by both Mayor W. F. Laferly, of Columbia, and Mr. D. E. Sikes, principal of the Columbia School. Mrs. Carl Thompson, of Monroe, gave the response.

Prior to reports of various unit presidents, "New Techniques of Study Group Organization" was the topic of a panel discussion, with the following participants: Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Mrs. Stanley Hodge, Mrs. Sidney Williams, Mrs. James Larkan, Jr., Mrs. Clyde Horn, Mrs. Paul Thompson and Mrs. Clyde Jordan, with Mrs. Virgil Crawford, narrator. Mrs. J. H. Stringer also sat in on the discussion, readily and so willingly answering questions and recommending solutions to problems of various units represented.

A most delicious lunch was served by the economics department of the high school.

Seventeen or more units were represented at the conference, two units having been organized more than a year and one unit coming back into the organization this year.

Barkdull Faulk School was represented by the following members: Mesdames D. Fontana, Ed Thomas, O. C. Lanier, I. L. Caus- John L. Hand, H. S. Nix, Harold Hunt, John A. Peters and J. R. Hegwood.

Mrs. D. E. Simmons, Jr., Is Hostess At League Meeting

Northside Discussion Group Hears Discussion On United Nations Led By Mrs. T. Mickel

The United Nations was the subject of discussion led by Mrs. T. Mickel, chairman of the Northside Discussion Group of the League of Women Voters. Meeting in the home of Mrs. D. E. Simmons, Jr., on October 4, this group heard Mrs. Mickel give a resume of the organization, purpose and activities of the United Nations based on the League Memo, The Citizen and the United Nations.

The discussion brought out that the citizen who is concerned about his country's foreign policy can give his opinion to his congressmen, the president, the secretary of state, or the U. S. delegates to the U. N. The citizen can elect men and women who are dedicated to support of the UN. Thus an articulate public can have a voice in the determination of U. S. policies in the UN.

The UN Charter provides that private non-governmental organizations may have consultative status in the UN through its economic and social council. These organizations include in their membership nearly all of the important trade unions, business and employers organizations, cooperative societies and farm organizations as well as leading associations of journalists, teachers, women and youth. Therefore, by helping to direct his organization and to determine its policy the citizen may have a channel of communication to the UN.

The citizen at all times has an opportunity and a responsibility to make his opinions known in his community. Talking to neighbors, speaking up at meetings, promoting discussion in his organization, and writing to the newspapers are some of the ways an individual person can be heard and be effective. If those who believe in the UN would make their support known, the public would become more aware of what the UN is doing and the government would reflect the increased interest and concern.

The completed report on the Police Department was read by

Mrs. R. B. Pilant Hostess At Bonhomie Club Meeting

Miss Marjorie Oliver, Guest Speaker, Gives Interesting Talk On Public Education

Members of the Bonhomie Club met in the home of Mrs. R. B. Pilant, 3806 Blanks in Monroe, with Mrs. W. D. Womack serving as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Hal Laymon, called the meeting to order and led the group in the reading of the club collect. Miss Marjorie Oliver was welcomed as a guest to the meeting.

During the business meeting, Mrs. R. B. Pilant was unanimously elected to serve as reporter for the club. The group also voted to make a contribution to the cancer drive.

After adjournment of the business meeting, the program chairman, Mrs. H. M. Rhodes, introduced Mrs. Oliver who made a most enlightening talk on public education. Mrs. Oliver said in part: "Have you ever wondered what was going on in the school your child is attending? Do the teachers sometimes do things which don't seem reasonable to you? Are you worried that your child doesn't know as much as you did when you were in the same grade? Do you think the school is letting your child off 'pretty easy'?"

"Parents all over the country are worried about their schools. Articles in newspapers, magazines, and even books, have been written to show all the mistakes and errors schools are making. The only way you can tell the true from the false is to know something about your schools."

"Part of the reason for some parents' concern is the fact that schools are different today! You should be glad they are! While some are crying for a return to the old method of teaching, others are complaining that our schools are 25 years behind everything else in this machine age. This is my chief worry; I feel very keenly that there are many ways in which we need to improve. Teachers seem to be eager to find better ways to teach. They're ever on the alert trying to make the child's education more effective."

"School people seem to be sensitive to what the parents and the public think about the methods used in the schools. Many reasonable and worthwhile ideas have been abandoned and are being abandoned because teachers fear that parents will object to their use. If teachers have the assurance that the public would approve and support a better schooling, they would be much more willing to change. I firmly believe that most parents want good schools. The first step is knowing what you want. The second step is making your wants known to the right people."

Mrs. Oliver then discussed the physical aspect of today's schools — grounds, type of architecture, colors, rooms, and furniture. She also presented informative material on discipline and grading systems.

The Watson Home Demonstration Club Has October Meeting

Kelly, Mrs. Ray Lindow, Mrs. Mary Peacock, Mrs. Edith Rayner, Mrs. Alice Wheat, Mrs. Magalene Hamilton, Mrs. Lena Belle Rawls, Mrs. Katie Jones, Mrs. Beth Peacock, Mrs. Linnie Jones, Mrs. Hazel Walden, Mrs. Joan Castleberry and Mrs. Nettie Jones.

The Swartz P.-T. A. Has Interesting Program Meeting

Cannon, who expressed his pleasure in the large attendance at this first meeting, and told how he was enjoying his work in the school and living in the Swartz community.

National Society, D. A. R., Has Third District Conference

Chief Tusquahoma Is Hostess Chapter At Third Annual Conference And Luncheon

Members of Chief Tusquahoma chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution were hosts at the third annual conference of the third district, National Society of the D. A. R. Monday held at the La Casa Tea Room.

The meeting was opened at ten o'clock by Mrs. George Lawn, hostess regent. A prayer followed given by Mrs. Lela Cullom, hostess chaplain, the pledge of allegiance by Miss Ellie L. Traylor of the Abram Morehouse Chapter in Bastrop. Mrs. W. B. R. Mitchell, Moses Shelby Chapter, gave the American Creed. Mrs. George Lawn then introduced Mrs. Stanley Blower, district director, and Mrs. J. C. Liner, state director, who welcomed officers and delegates to the annual conference.

THE HOME SHIFT By MILDRED SWIFT

Ah! Cooler weather is with us. Not cool enough yet though to start transplanting shrubs. I've had so many calls from people who are rearranging beds and want to move plants. I heard a man say once that all plants should be made on wheels so women could move them every season. Of course, if you have expert help and can move enough dirt with the shrub so no roots will be broken or cut—then you can move any time.

Mrs. Carey Holmes says she's having trouble with her chrysanthemums dying in her yard. We finally traced the cause to forgetting to water before the roots dried up. Mrs. Holmes did water the plants the best way (as she does everything else the right way). She turned the water down the furrow instead of wetting the chrysanthemum plant.

Ran into Marvin Dubois last Wednesday (over a cup of coffee). He was asking questions about shrubs and plants because he's bought a home on Mathew street. I told him about our bulletins. He was surprised we had them on so many subjects, so I just mailed him one of each on landscaping and horticulture. Say, Marvin! Why not visit our office sometime and look over the bulletin rack? You'll have fun and get lots of fine information. That's an invitation to everybody in Ouachita parish. Not only to see the bulletins but to see our lovely agriculture building. There are still many people in this parish who haven't visited us. That's a mighty nice building your police jury has provided for agricultural workers and work.

Is it time to plant bulbs? Yes and Mrs. H. G. Thompson (her ideas are always so down to earth) says to plant them twice the depth of the bulb.

The bulbs to plant from now to December are: Crocus, Hyacinth, tulip, daffodil, scilla.

Why don't my iris bloom? Mrs. O. M. Crisheim and many others are having that trouble. If the plants have gotten too thick with rhizomes interlocked the blooms will be scanty. They need separating but this is not the time to do that. I'll tell you about that next year. Just leave them alone for this year. You can probably encourage a few more blooms if you will work a little bone meal around them.

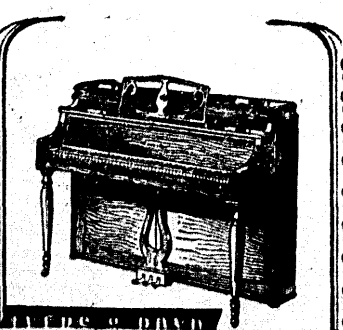

Such activity at the fair grounds Thursday night! Ma Prantom buzzing around from booth to booth, Lorena McCoy giving last minute instructions to those helping with the registering. Remember all entries must be made not later than 7:00 p. m. Monday, October 8. Oh Yes! I forgot Tom Hicks and John Lirsdong were there busy... talking. They're really talked up a good fair, too and done lots of work along with the talking.

See you at the fair next week and I'll see you next Sunday in this same column.

Miss Antoinette Dispenza Is Bride Of Virgil Ray Bivens

Saint Matthew's Catholic Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double - Ring Ceremony

A wedding of simplicity and beauty was solemnized on September 20th at 5:30 P. M. in the evening at St. Matthew's Catholic Church when Miss Antoinette Dispenza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veto Dispenza, became the bride of Virgil Ray Bivens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bivens of Texarkana, Tex. Rev. Father Andrew Staricek was the officiating minister at the wedding ceremony.

White mums and green fern decorated the main altar. Baskets of white gladioli, with tall white tapers glowing along the rail, formed the background where the couple exchanged their wedding vows.

Nuptial music was played by Alma Woodham, accompanied by Irving Zeidman who sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

At the processional the bride entered on the arm of her father and was a vision of loveliness. She wore the traditional white satin gown, clustered with seed pearls. The neckline was of nylon net. The bodice was moulded to the figure and fastened in the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The skirt fell in gracious folds from the waistline and swirled into a full court train. The long tight sleeves came to a point over the hands. A crown of seed pearls held the fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of white roses and tuberoses, centered with an orchid.

Miss Nancy Dispenza, aunt of the bride, was maid-of-honor. The bridal attendants were: Mrs. Lena Budenski, Mrs. Mica Cernigliaro, and Miss Lucille Tornatore. The junior bridesmaids were: Misses Theresa Farace and Lucille Cernigliaro.

The bridesmaids gowns were of autumn shades of Kelly green, orchid, gold, pink and aqua. They were of embra nylon tulle over taffeta. The billowing skirts were of floor length with embra taffeta draped tunic in back. They wore matching head crowns of nylon net and taffeta. Their bouquets were of mums and were fashioned in basket style.

Peter Dispenza served the groom as the best man. Groomsmen were: Joseph LaSuzzo, George Budenski, and Peter Cernigliaro. Junior groomsmen were: Michael Dispenza and Joseph Marsala. The men were attired in tuxedos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Veto Dispenza wore a Nile green gown with matching hat and a corsage of orchid mums. Mrs. Bivens wore a navy blue model with a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony, a dance was held at the Progressive Men's club. The bride's table was overlaid with a beautiful lace cloth and was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. A miniature bride and groom topped the cake.

Serving as hostesses at the reception were: Miss Ruby Worley, Miss Rose Ann Canal, Miss Christine Higginbotham, and Miss Willie Mae Thomas.

For her honeymoon, Mrs. Bivens wore a blue suit with matching accessories. She wore the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Ushers at the wedding were: Vincent Farace, Harold DeMers, and Jack Tornatore.

Girl Scout News

Organization and re-organization are the order of the day at this particular time of the year. We're always glad to hear of new troops, particularly in new areas of the council's jurisdiction, but we get even more pleasure in hearing of troops that have been carrying on good programs for four or five consecutive years. Thought we might tell you of some of the developments in the line of troop organization.

Have you seen the new Highland School? They're having open house this afternoon, by the way, and you'll enjoy seeing this very modern school. A visit from our organization chairman disclosed that there are many Scouts in the school who have transferred from other schools. The girls of the seventh grade are particularly lucky; their leader, Mrs. R. E. Harrell, was transferred too. That is, her daughter was. Now these girls of Troop 1 are ready to start on their third year of Girl Scouting.

Speaking of leaders transferring, when the Louis Turners built their new home in the Georgia Tucker district, it then gave one group of sixth grade girls new leaders and a wonderful opportunity to start on their fourth year in Scouting. As co-leader the girls will have Mrs. Robert Easterling, and of course, we know what that means—camping and other out-of-door activities. Lucky girls! The troop, Number 14, sponsored by the Georgia Tucker P. - T. A., meets at Grace Church parish house. Mothers of the girls have formed a troop committee with Mrs. J. H. Trousdale, Mrs. Henry Gilliland, Mrs. S. C. Simpson, Mrs. Richard Pierce, as members.

A brand new Brownie Scout troop made up of Barkdull - Faulk girls has had several meetings with Mrs. Dallas Wades and Mrs. R. E. Watkins as leaders.

A new troop began work at Crosley School last week under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Pace, a newcomer who has had experience in Scouting, who majored in physical education and served in the WAC's and just seems made to order for a leader.

And then there are those leaders who were in Scouting last year and perhaps for several years before that, who serve faithfully because they see how much it means to the girls. They have fun, too, we think, and we know you parents are grateful to them.

But what about a lot of girls in the Twin Cities who don't get to be Scouts? There are always enough girls; not always enough leaders to go 'round. We have troops whose leaders have moved away. Won't some of you grown-ups who read this make up your minds that you would like to spend a part of one afternoon each week, working with a small group of girls in a democratic, character building organization? If you can't be a leader, maybe you'd like another job in Scouting. Call the Scout office 2-1270 and find out how you can help.

Mrs. James A. Noe Entertains Sigma Members And Friends On Boat Ride

Boating on the beautiful Ouachita is one of the pleasures associated with summer and fall in Monroe. House boats and speed boats leave almost daily for remote places up the river where supper is served on a gleaming white sand bar and swimming and gar giggling offers relaxation.

The Noe's Ark, one of the largest house boats on the river, carried a group of young business and professional women, members of Sigma chapter of Delta Rho Delta National Sorority, up the river for an evening of restful relaxation.

Mrs. James A. Noe, honorary member of Delta Rho Delta and Mr. Noe were hosts on this occasion.

The party of more than twenty-five left the boat dock shortly before seven o'clock on Wednesday evening to enjoy the cruise up the river and the beautiful scenery offered for a restful and enjoyable evening.

Supper was served on the upper deck of the Ark, buffet style, from a long table presided over by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. James A. Noe, membership director of Sigma chapter.

During the conversational interlude, homeward bound, conversation revolved around the Delta Rho Delta national convention in Fort Worth, Tex., the hostess city, on Saturday and Sunday, November 17 and 18. Members of Sigma chapter are making plans to turn out in great number for this big event.

Pleasantly reminiscing, Delta Rho Delta members reviewed the past year's achievements and dwelt at length on the book review delivered by Mrs. Julia Morrow Gilmer of Shreveport. The lectures delivered by Dr. H. J. Sachs of Ruston and Dr. Ben F. Lehmberg were also brought to mind.

Another event looked forward to with pleasant anticipation is the Silver Tea on November 10 at the home of Miss Maude Mayo on Lakeside drive and the lecture on Monday evening by Dr. Albert Venting of Fort Worth. Doctor Venting is a speaker of great scope and Sigma members are looking forward to his visit with a great deal of enthusiasm.

Among those attending the outing were: Mrs. James A. Riddle, Mrs. Bertha Patterson, Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Catherine Buckley, Miss Wilma Smith, Miss Carolyn Baur, Miss Betty Waddill, Mrs. Joy Hays, Miss Lillie Glenn, Mrs. Bonnie Williams, Mrs. Jean Boyce, Miss Bernice McCrary, Miss Marjorie Karstendiek, Miss Mary Louise Farr, Mrs. W. Fields, Miss Mary Ann Ashford, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Miss Gloria Futrell, Miss Harriett Cyfert, Miss Dottie Klepynger, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Pat Willey, Miss Mary Riser, and Miss Freeda Mickel.

Members of The Literary Guild held their first meeting of the year with Mrs. N. G. Gaston, in her attractive home on Bayou DeSiard. She was assisted by Mrs. D. T. Milam as co-hostess.

The business was presided over by Mrs. N. G. Gaston, president and several committees were heard from with a report by Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, giving the highlights of the first fall board meeting of the Fifth District Club Women. She stated that plans were in progress for the State Convention to be held in Alexandria, La. November 8th to 10th. She was made chairman of the defense bond drive, being sponsored by the fifth district for March 5th.

Mrs. J. G. Durrett, held the interest of the members with a most illuminating review of "The History of The American Novel." Beginning with the early English stories she carried the development of the novel through the different periods of history up to the present time. She stressed the influence that science, religion, travel and the trend of the times also locality had upon the novel. Of interest also was the fact that women have excelled in the writing of the novel, particularly the historical novel.

After the program a delicious salad course was served to the following members. Mrs. J. P. Brown, Mrs. George Lester, Mrs. Duncan Cook, Mrs. A. D. Tisdale, Mrs. Anna Lou Sandridge, Mrs. Ernest Holloway, D. T. Milam, Mrs. Milling Bernstein, Mrs. J. G. Durrett, Mrs. C. U. Johnson, Mrs. J. B. Kugler and the hostess.

About three-fourths of the French port city of St. Malo was destroyed in World War II.

Variety Of Social Affairs Marks Calendar Before Signing Of Pledge Cards

Rush week for Sigma Alpha Chi, social fraternity of Northeast Louisiana State, included a series of gala events which provided enjoyment for both rushees and members under leadership of President Buster Crowley. The fraternity, now in its second year as a campus organization, has to its credit a record of outstanding achievements and college leadership.

First on the calendar of fall social affairs was a dance on September 27. Symbols of the fraternity, fashioned of purple and orchid crepe paper, were placed effectively as focal points of decoration.

Attracting a large group was the semi-formal dinner held the following evening in the Cajun room of The Rendezvous. Candlelight from ten large hurricane lamps flickered on English ivy and fern which ran the length of the tables to heighten the beauty of the attractively decorated dining room.

Master of ceremonies, Bobby Joe Jackson, and Don Easterling combined their talents in presenting a series of comedy numbers. Jane Wallace, accompanied them at the piano during their song routines, and she also played a popular melody from "Showboat."

Special guests for the occasion included: President and Mrs. Lewis Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Lemert, Miss Gertrude Sandrock and Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl. Also present were Miss Elizabeth Meredith, sweetheart of Sigma Alpha Chi, sponsors of the fraternity and members of Gamma Zeta, a social sorority of Northeast State.

Sponsors include: Roberteen Parker, Cynthia Guyton, Jane Wallace and Elizabeth Ann Doane. Highlighting the activities of rush week was a smoker given in the home of Joe Monroe on Speed Drive. ### Excuse it please

Several weeks ago we told you the fixtures for our Louisville Avenue Branch, after much delay had arrived, and that we hoped to open around the middle of September.

Well, part of those fixtures did arrive, as stated. But, part of them did not—and have only now shown up, and are rapidly being installed.

So now with only a floor job, and some painting, and a touch here and there, we should be able to open within the near future... Just a little while—as time goes on—and we know you'll like it!

IF EISENHOWER
said "Yes" tomorrow...

Who got him to talk? Where?
What party did he pick? What are his reasons?
Who's taking over in Europe?

The moment the General laid aside his battle Jacket, you'd be one big question-mark. And where would you turn for your answer?

Sure—you'd listen to the commentators, whenever you could get the radio or the TV at the right moment.

Sure—you might see the magazines, but the fastest of them would be too slow.

But what you'd want most, and wouldn't be denied, is a newspaper in your hand.

You'd know that you could find the story there immediately with more details—more comment—more angles—than anywhere else.

You feel that way every day about something that happens—you want your newspaper. And everybody else feels that way, too. For every day a hundred things appear that are Page One news to somebody, even if it's only a new moletrap at the hardware store.

People may do without almost anything —except the paper. That's why, when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the place to reach all the people. When it comes to Advertising, why deal in fractions? . . .

Magazines reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to some people —not to others. No magazine is read by everyone in town who can possibly buy.

Radio and TV reach only fractions of your market. Each program appeals to only a special audience—sport fans, homemakers, kids, or whatever. And even the people interested can't all listen at the time you broadcast.

The newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody. All your customers read the paper—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose! 4

Only the newspaper is first with the most news . . . the most people . . . the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always
"first with the most"

This message prepared by BUREAU OF ADVERTISING, American Newspaper Publishers Association and published in the interests of fuller understanding of newspapers by the Monroe News-Star & Morning World.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking...without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocrine... because Endocrine, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

Fall And Winter Fashions Are Modeled At 'French Touch' Fashion Showing

Kiwanettes See Smart Creations At French Fashion Show Given Tuesday At Virginia Hotel In Parisian Setting

"French Touch Fashions" was presented at the Virginia Hotel Tuesday morning featuring the latest in fashions with the Parisian influence. The unique style show was presented by Mr. Jack Masur and the Palace honoring Kiwanettes attending the Louisiana-Mississippi-West Tennessee Kiwanis Convention.

A fall atmosphere was provided at the individual tables by small arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and centered with the large letter "K." On the mantel was a beautiful arrangement of large yellow mums and fern and flanked by two white vases holding magnolia leaves.

Placed at different sections on the roof were posters designating the different settings for the style revue. Stunning and sophisticated styles were modeled by twenty lovely models to the lovely piano-organ selections rendered by Mrs.

Bill Wilkerson who also accompanied Mrs. A. R. Doughty in a lovely voice selection.

Proceeding the fashion show French maids, portrayed by Mrs. Harry Schroeder, Mrs. R. P. McKay, Mrs. John G. Lewis and Mrs. H. B. Hargrove, passed among the tables with coffee and miniature doughnuts.

The prologue was given in French by Madame Claire and interpreted by Bonnie Williams, who introduced the glamorous models in her most charming manner. She was wearing a brown crepe fashioned by Anna Miller. With this she wore a Paris inspired ripple brim chucker in rich brown velvet.

Off To Paris

The fashion show was opened with "Off to Paris" and featured travel-smart clothes.

A stunning suit for travel was modeled by Mrs. Walter Schubert. This suit by Ben Zuckerman was fashioned with a skirt held away from the body by a taffeta lining. The tailored jacket was padded through the hips. Mrs. Schubert wore a smart French Kalo in dark grey with this outfit.

Twin City Concerts Plan Outstanding Musical Events

Miss Lily Pons, Metropolitan Opera Star, Booked For Current Season's Entertainment

The Twin City Concerts, Inc., was organized a few weeks ago at a meeting held at the Virginia Hotel in which the following officers were elected to the Executive Board:

Mr. Slade Brown, president; Mr. John Cale, Miss Freeda Mickel, and Dr. Bert Heinberg, all vice-presidents. Miss Mamie McNeill, secretary; Mr. F. L. Martin, treasurer, Miss Freeda Mickel and Mrs. Slade Brown, co-campaign chairmen. Mrs. Henry C. Mayo was appointed dinner chairman and Mr. John Cale was appointed publicity chairman.

The following listed are the charter members and board of directors of the newly formed association: Mrs. H. B. Collins, Mr. Nick Kokinos, Mr. Paul Goldman, Mr. Frank Parker, Mrs. Maude Mayo, Mrs. Slade Brown, Mrs. Melba Liner, Mr. William B. Ragland, Jr., Mr. Max Kuleke, Sr., Mrs. David Aaron, Mrs. J. H. Carroll, Mr. Hawleigh Poula, Mr. John W. Davis, Mr. Jack Dow, Mrs. De Witt Henry, Miss Hermoine Driscoll, Mrs. Charlie Chisolm, Mr. Paul Hewitt, Mr. Raymond Bolton, Mrs. D. R. Sartor, Mrs. Frank Sartor, Mrs. Irvie Lee Temple, Mrs. Clare Freiberg, Mrs. Fred Berry, Mrs. Z. C. Ambrose, Mrs. Florence Albritton, Mrs. John S. Brown, Mrs. Ed Dalton and Dr. Bert Heinberg.

The purpose of this association is to present in the Twin Cities a regular series of concerts every year by top-ranking solo artists, instrumental and vocal ensembles, and dance groups. The Twin Cities Concerts, Inc. is affiliated with Community Concert Service of New York and Chicago and represents the organized-audience plays by which over a thousand communities in the United States and Canada present series of concerts on a no-profit and no-loss basis.

Mr. Herb Fox and Mr. Daniel Poole, field representatives of Community Concert Service, attended the meeting and advised the local association on plans and procedure for a one-week membership campaign to be held October 22 to 27 (inclusive). Preliminary plans for the campaign include the establishment of an organization comprising approximately 300 officers and campaign workers. This organization will be under the direction of Miss Freeda Mickel and Mrs. Slade Brown, co-campaign chairman of the association. On Monday night, October 22, the whole organization will hold a dinner meeting at the Virginia Hotel which will serve as the send-off for the campaign. Mr. Slade Brown, president of the association, will preside at this meeting, workers will receive their final instructions and equipment for enrolling an expected 2,000 members, the maximum seating capacity of the Neville High School auditorium, in which the concerts will be held.

A campaign headquarters will be established in the Virginia Hotel lobby in which a special phone will be installed for the week. Workers will enroll members throughout the week and on Saturday night of October 27 the campaign will be closed and no more members will be accepted. Also, no tickets will ever be sold to individual concerts. By restricting the membership taking to one week and prohibiting the sale of single tickets to the concerts, the association is enabled to close its books and select its concerts within the limits of an established fund and thereby incur no financial risk. Also, this policy, coupled with a successful campaign, permits each member to attend concerts that often double or triple the value of the member as compared with single ticket buying for the same concerts under the "box office" plan of running concerts.

Under the "organized-audience" plan, memberships cost $6.10 for adults and $3.05 for students and this one membership entitles holder to attend all concerts booked as a result of the campaign. The actual choice of concerts is the responsibility of the executive board which is representative of the whole community and can be relied upon to choose according to the known tastes of the majority they represent.

As a result of the desires expressed by so many of the persons contacted during the organization of the Twin City Concerts, Inc., the board of directors has secured a definite date for the appearance of Miss Lily Pons, the great coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. as one of the outstanding concerts of the 1951-1952 season.

The first of 11 huge stone heads uncovered in southern Mexico was discovered in 1858 by a native workman.

Eleven giant stone heads more than 1,300 years old have been unearthed in southern Mexico.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE

Grammont and Catalpa Streets Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister.

The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning hour of worship. This is the day of the church calendar. It is not only the duty but the privilege of believers to commune together for they are reminded of the Lord Christ, and His affection for them. The theme of the Communion is "This Bread, This Cup."

The evening worship is scheduled for seven thirty. Our thoughts will center in the task assigned by God to Moses, Exodus 3:10. The subject of the message is "God Has A Job For Us."

The session has called a congregational meeting for Sunday, October 14, at the close of the morning worship. Dr. O. M. Anderson, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Bastrop, will preach and moderate the meeting. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the resignation of the minister, and join him in his request for a dissolution of the relation as pastor and people, if the way be clear.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

Are YOU a Christian?

AMERICANISM and CHRISTIANITY or COMMUNISM and ATHEISM...which do you want? The inescapable challenge facing the Christian world today is COMMUNISM. COMMUNISM is OFFICIALLY ATHEIST. To destroy the American principle of FREEDOM OF WORSHIP is the declared intention of this ANTI-AMERICANISM.

ABOUT twenty years ago the Comintern declared: "The ultimate aim of the Communist International is to replace world capitalist economy by a world system of Communism....It will bury forever all mysticism, religion, and superstition." That anti-God declaration has never been challenged. In fact, it has strengthened its atheist principles to a point that has rarely been seen before in history. The Truth is, Communism cannot live with Christianity, because it is a religion unto itself, as much so as it is a system of politics and economics.

COMMUNISTS declare theirs is simply the "scientific" application of the teachings of history. They also say theirs is not only a "scientific" system but is the ONLY SYSTEM. Communists say Christianity is superstition. They refer to Christianity as something especially designed to capture the masses for exploitation by capitalist masters. Communists say "DOWN WITH THE CROSS WHICH IS THE SYMBOL OF FAITH FOR THE CHRISTIAN WORLD."...Therefore, Communism and Christianity become the two great rival Faiths of the Twentieth Century.

CHRISTIANITY believes one thing about the nature of man and his destiny, the nature of morality, the basis of ethics, and the nature of the Universe; COMMUNISM believes the exact opposite. CHRISTIANITY believes in the INDIVIDUAL and in the RIGHTS OF MAN. COMMUNISM believes the individual is the wholly owned SLAVE OF THE STATE.

THIS atheistic, materialistic, conspiracy threatens to engulf the whole world. Unless it is stopped our liberties, political, civil and religious rights, will go the way of the unfortunate nations which have already been crushed to earth behind the iron curtain of Moscow. If you believe in God and the Bible of the Lord God Almighty, won't you help hold high the CROSS. It is being threatened by Communist enemies. For the sake of all that is dear to you...attend your church and support her good work.

ST. JOSEPH HOME GUESTS AIDED

Gray Ladies Render Many Deeds Of Kindness To Residents There

The American Red Cross Gray Ladies at the St. Joseph Home are busy planning the fall activities for the guests, which includes the Thanksgiving and Christmas parties.

Each Monday afternoon the Gray Ladies will be found at the St. Joseph Home. Our usual duties are writing letters, taking patients to the doctor, shopping, reading, and if the weather is suitable, taking the guests who want to go for rides.

On the third Monday afternoon of each month the Gray Ladies have a birthday party in the dining room for each guest that has a birthday during that month. The ladies are given corsages and the birthday cake is served with punch or soft drinks. Bedridden guests are also remembered.

The Gray Ladies are issuing a plea for old clothing for a rummage sale to be held October 13 to purchase Christmas gifts for those living in Monroe's home for the aged. If you wish to contribute, you can either drop it off at the Ouachita parish Red Cross chapter, or call any of the following Gray Ladies. They will be glad to pick it up:

Mrs. H. W. Knight, Phone 3-4729; Mrs. C. D. McAdams, phone 3-3986; Mrs. W. B. Jackson, phone 3-6792; Mrs. B. M. Storey, phone 3-4587; Mrs. Ray Updegraff, phone 3-5375; Mrs. J. G. Taliaferro, phone 8617.

The active Gray Ladies volunteers at the St. Joseph Home are: Mrs. H. G. Reese, chairman, Mrs. William Weinberg, co-chairman, Mrs. G. M. Gleason, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. R. M. Troy, Mrs. Milton Coverdale, Mrs. M. A. Peterson, Mrs. Ernest Strauss, Mrs. Meyer Glazier and Mrs. Charles Marx.

Hayward, Dailey In New Picture

Susan Hayward, Dan Dailey and George Sanders, one of the season's brightest stars, hold down the leading roles in the much heralded film attraction due Wednesday at the Paramount, “I Can Get It For You Wholesale.”

Based on the best-selling novel of Jerome Weidman, which attracted wide attention by virtue of breaking new fictional ground, the Twentieth Century-Fox motion picture has been brought to the screen under the guidance of veteran producer Sol C. Siegel and rising young director Michael Gordon.

The background for the story of “I Can Get It For You Wholesale” is the fabulous and teeming garment industry of New York, and advance reports indicate that the film does for this aspect of metropolitan life what “All About Eve” did for the people of the theatre. The drama of a woman of fashion's rise to power in the business world, at the cost of walking over a few people on her way up, Weidman's novel told a frank and penetrating story of excessive ambition.

For Susan Hayward the central part in “I Can Get It For You Wholesale” is another in a series of important roles at the Twentieth Century-Fox studios. Recently seen in “I'll Climb the Highest Mountain” and “Rawhide,” and soon to be seen in the much-anticipated “David and Bathsheba,” Miss Hayward's film stock is zooming to new heights.

For Dan Dailey the new romantic drama and his assignment to the role of a sharpshooter salesman is a fast change of pace from his musical pictures, a la “Call Me Mister,” and comedies like “When Willie Comes Marching Home.”

George Sanders, an Academy Award nominee for his stellar performance in “All About Eve,” makes his first film appearance since that notable triumph as the department store tycoon and Dailey's rival for Hayward's affections in “I Can Get It For You Wholesale.”

The supporting cast of the film is headed by Sam Jaffe, distinguished stage and screen character actor who scored so decisively in “The Asphalt Jungle” a few months back. Other participants are Randy Stuart, prominent starlet; Marvin Kaplan, highly-touted young comic; Harry Von Zell, the one-time radio announcer building a screen career for himself in character parts; Barbara Whiting, a talented young lady; Vicki Cummings, popular Broadway stage comedienne with a brisk style; Ross Elliott, Richard Lane and Mary Phillips.

AT PARAMOUNT TODAY

Gorgeous Corinne Calvet and Joseph Cotton take time out for romance during a terror-ridden train journey through present-day China in “Peking Express,” the story of a fighting doctor and a daring adventuress, which opens a three-day engagement at the Paramount Theater today.

‘Peking Express’ Is Stirring And Fast-Rolling Action Drama Film

Joseph Cotton And Corinne Calvet Star In Picture At Paramount

A desperate, terror-ridden train journey serves as the vehicle for an exciting round of violence, intrigue and romance in Paramount's new adventure drama, “Peking Express,” which opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

The principal players in this slickly crafted Hal Wallis thriller are Joseph Cotton and Corinne Calvet. Cotton plays an American doctor bound for the Chinese interior on a secret mission. He meets Miss Calvet, a shapely French adventuress with a shady past, on the Peking Express. The two rekindle a romance that had begun in wartime Paris, but find grimmer business on their hands when a mysterious stabbing takes place in the girl's compartment.

This plunges the pair into a series of adventures that eventually finds them, and other passengers, captives in the hideout of a band dealing in stolen U. N. supplies. The leader threatens to kill an American priest (Edmund Gwenn) unless he is ransomed, tortures Chinese Nationals, and forces his attentions on the beautiful French girl. He is about to kill the doctor, but an unexpected turn of events sets the stage for an escape attempt in which the medico, wielding a tommy gun, proves that he can kill as well as cure.

Producer Hal Wallis has framed these exciting happenings in a brisk, on-the-spot style that makes them seem as immediate and real as today's headlines. Cotton brings strength and solidity to the role of a doctor on a perilous mission, while Miss Calvet is bewitching and believable as a dangerous damsel making her way in the world's Number One danger spot. Edmund Gwenn turns in another finished performance as the priest, and Marvin Miller, playing the murderous black marketeer, heads a competent supporting cast.

Directed by William Dieterle from a taut script by John Meredith Lucas, “Peking Express” is a rewarding celluloid adventure that roars down the entertainment right-of-way at a dizzying clip.

‘Excuse My Dust’ At Joy Drive-In

“Excuse My Dust,” new M-G-M Technicolor musical now showing at the Joy Drive-In Theatre, marks the start of a new long-term contract for Jack Cummings, one of the industry's youngest producers.

Groomed and reared on the Metro lot, Cummings started at the studio as an office boy when the company was founded in 1924. After ten years of work in various departments, he was promoted to producer status. Since then he has produced such out-standing box-office hits as “Born to Dance,” “Broadway Melody of 1938,” “Ship Ahoy,” “Bathing Beauty,” “Nephtune's Daughter,” “The Stratton Story” and “Two Weeks With Love.”

In “Excuse My Dust,” hilarious tale of a small town boy who invents the first “horseless carriage,” his stars are Red Skelton, Sally Forrest and Macdonald Carey, under the direction of Roy Rowland. The new musical is playing at the Joy Drive-In Theatre.

Skelton is again slated for a Cummings production in “Texas Carnival,” in which he will co-star with Esther Williams. Others of this producer's forthcoming pictures include “Montes the Matador,” teaming Ava Gardner, Ricardo Montalban and Fernando Lamas; “Love-ly to Look At,” starring Marge and Gower Champion; and “Give Every Girl a Break,” a new comedy original by Vera Caspary.

College Paper's Editor Fired For Attending Red Rally In East Germany

Chicago, Oct. 6.—The editor of the University of Chicago's student newspaper was fired yesterday for sponsoring and attending the Communist world youth festival in east Berlin last August.

A university statement said the deposed editor of the weekly Chicago Maroon is Alan D. Kimmel, 24, a graduate geography student who is still in eastern Europe.

The statement said Kimmel was notified of his dismissal in a letter written by Robert M. Strozier, dean of students. Strozier said he wrote Kimmel that “sponsoring and attending the east Berlin youth festival demonstrates your lack of qualification to edit a free and independent newspaper.”

The university said today's issue of the Maroon would be the last until a new editor is selected. Kimmel was elected editor last May by Maroon staff members. The Maroon staff said that an all-campus meeting would be called for Tuesday night to protest Kimmel's dismissal.

The rocky French island of St. Malo is honeycombed with dungeons and ancient treasure vaults.

RED SKELTON playfully admonishes SALLY FORREST, in a scene from MGM's comedy, “EXCUSE MY DUST,” in color by Technicolor.

PRINCIPAL GIVES P.T.A. ADDRESS

Paul Geisler Tells Of Education Trends To Lake Providence P.T.A.

Lake Providence, La., Oct. 6.—(Special) — Paul Geisler, principal of the Lake Providence High School was speaker for the October meeting of the school's P.T.A. With the topic of "Trends in Education that Indicate the Need for a Program of Guidance Services in Our Schools," Mr. Geisler explained that "Guidance is conceived as a series designed to help the individual make more adequate decisions in the solution of his problems. The student cannot wisely solve his problems unless he is well informed about himself and his environment. There are two ways of reaching these objectives. One way is to help the pupil solve his problem by counseling him individually."

The school principal listed six objectives of a guidance program, viz: To make for and build effective individuals; to enable the school to know its pupils; to make pupil planning meaningful; to make and use the vocational needs; to meet social needs.

Mrs. A. K. Amacker was thanked for designing the cover of the year book and Mrs. Hardy O'Steen was thanked for his compilation.

Mrs. Hugh King, first grade teacher and Mrs. M. M. Walsworth, second grade teacher, tied for the attendance room count.

Budget presented by the finance committee and accepted by the body included expenditures of $15 for supplies for the sick room; $25 for representative to Girls State; $25 for a life membership; $50 administration work; $25 committee activities; $5 subscriptions to National P.T.A. bookshelf; $75 on expenses of president and other delegates to national, state, district and parish meetings; $15 for room count; $15 P.T.A. workshop expenses, totaling $282.

On display were two pictures purchased for the school cafeteria by the P.T.A., with Mrs. Elizabeth Bethea, head of Tech Art School, making the selection.

Mrs. W. W. Ward, P.T.A. magazine chairman explained the merits of the book, the official organ of the organization and solicited subscriptions. For the year, the day's program is to be divided into three sections: business, musical and social, with the program and social hour preceding the business session.

On Thursday the school's quartet, Betty Jean Britton, Bonita Tucker, John Russell Davis, and Billy Walnwright, with Carolyn Babb, accompanist, presented five numbers: Autumn Solitude, by the four; "My Hero," a solo, by Bonita Tucker; "A Little Bit of Galantry," duet by Bonita Tucker and Billy Walnwright; "Because of You," solo, Betty Jean Britton; "Sweet Violets," duet, Bonita Tucker and Betty Jean Britton; "Chase Away the Tear Drops," by the quartet.

Staff members of the school newspaper, Lil' Mat, sponsored a Sok Hop on the evening of Friday, October 5, in the gymnasium. This entertainment was offered in an effort to raise funds for the school publication. Miss Annette Pittaro, '52, is editor of the paper, and she with the full cooperation of her workers witnessed a completely successful party. J. D. Cascio won the sok prize.

In regard to present athletic success at the school, Ralph Norman, '53, has this to say: "The Fighting Irish went out for victory Thursday night (October 5) at Brown Stadium against the L. T. I. Pellicans. . . . Last year the Irish won the city championship from the Pels and Thursday night for the second consecutive time they won the Class B city championship by beating the Pels by a score of 13 to 6. . . . The Irish scored in the second quarter. A pass from Stratton to Eberts put the Irish in scoring position and then Accordo followed by passing to Eberts again for the travel down. Then the Pels intercepted a pass by Accordo and scored which brought the score to 6 to 6. . . . In the last few minutes of the game Accordo streaked 44 yards to a touchdown and Stratton made the conversion. The Irish regained the ball and held possession until the final horn. . . . So it goes at the dear old Alma Mater. Things seem continually to hum about the place with a vigor and vitality that foretells but one thing—great achievements for the year, both academically and athletically.

St. Matthew's HAS CARNIVAL

P. - T. A. Event Proves Big Success; Seniors Stage Program

The St. Matthew's P.T.A. carnival held on October 3 in the school gymnasium and directed by the chairman, Mrs. Norman Many, proved a tremendous success. Assisting Mrs. Many in the benefit activity was Mrs. Albert Theriot, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, and the many generous members of the organization, as well as the large number of patronizers. Funds realized from the carnival will be applied to playground improvements.

There was a precedent set at student participation meeting Monday last, when St. Matthew's senior class staged the first all pupil-initiated program of the year. Juniors, sophomores, and freshmen hope to follow in some small degree the splendid work evidenced on the part of the upperclassmen. Members responsible for the interesting numbers on the program were: Betty Jane Shipp, Polly Rillanry, Marcie Renaud, Annette Pittaro, Rosina Lisotta, Vita Marie Jacola, Claudia Jernigan, Sally Hays, Mabel Basco, Mary Elizabeth Debnam, Phyllis Jo Nastasi, Julius Fontana, Peter Corrent, Warren Eberts, David Villaneuva, Lupe Gonzales, Frank Brucato, Joseph Mansour, Frank Tichell, Fred Bernal, J. W. Brandao, and Lamar Clay.

Bob Thomas IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood—Look out, America, here they come!
Actors, directors, writers and producers by the dozens today are being dispatched by all forms of transportation, destined for Hollywood's biggest invasion of the U. S. More than 240 personalities, about 70 per cent of them film players are hitting the road to sell the motion picture industry back to their countrymen. First to leave was Dorothy Lamour, headed for Boston.

The campaign, titled, "Movieland U. S. A.," kicks off Monday in the 28 biggest American cities. After that, the Hollywood emissaries will filter into the other principal cities, bearing their tidings of goodwill. The appearance tours will extend throughout the week, but Movie-time, U. S. A. will be a year-long campaign to encourage movie attendance. Judging from my experience while visiting San Francisco, I can tell the traveling film people that their most frequent question will not be "What is Hollywood doing about television?"

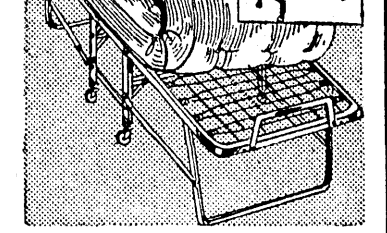

It will be "What's the low-down on Tone, Payton and Neal?" It's lucky for the industry that the film festival was not planned for this week. It would scarcely have been noticed in the nation's fervor for baseball.

DICK TRACY

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK

FRONT OF HEAD    FRONT AND BACK, HAIR BETWEEN    ALL OVER TOP

IN DESCRIBING A MAN AS BALD, NOTE SHOULD BE TAKEN OF THE TYPE OF BALDNESS. THREE TYPES ARE SHOWN ABOVE.

YES, I SEE IT.

THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT IT, TRACY. THERE IS AN OBJECT DOWN THERE.

USING THE ELECTRONIC NIGHT GLASSES, TRACY AND DIET SMITH HAVE SPENT THE NIGHT SEARCHING.

IT'S SOMETHING SMALL AND YELLOW. MY CAR WAS YELLOW. I'M GOING DOWN.

TOO MANY TREES TO LAND—BUT WE CAN DROP YOU AND HOVER OVERHEAD WHILE YOU SEARCH.

ALL RIGHT! WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

IT'S ALMOST DAYLIGHT. THIS MAY BE OUR FIRST BREAK.

ANOTHER TEN FEET LOWER, PILOT.

WHAT??

IT'S THE FENDER SKIRT FROM THE RIGHT REAR WHEEL OF MY CAR!

I'M STAYING DOWN!

WE'LL FIND A LANDING SPOT AND JOIN YOU WITH SOME HELP.

MEANWHILE, CREWY LOU, HUNGRY AND EXHAUSTED, EVES A FOREST LOOKOUT TOWER.

I SMELL FOOD, COFFEE—BACON!

FOOD! I'VE GOT TO HAVE FOOD, EVEN IF I—

AND SEVERAL MILES IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION, TRACY'S CAR STILL SITS BENEATH THE TREE BOUGHS WHERE CREWY LOU LEFT IT! BUT FROM WITHIN, COMES NO BABY'S CRY. ALL IS QUIET NOW!

Little Orphan Annie

FOREWARNED IS FOREARMED. (PLAUTUS) HISTORY IS FULL OF NARROW ESCAPES, BUT NONE MUCH CLOSER THAN SOME THAT ANNIE HAS!

IF TH' "DOCTOR" EVER GUESSED I WAS OUT HERE IN TH' YARD—BR-R—BY TOMORROW, I WOULDN'T BE EVEN A CINDER!

MY STORY'S ALL WRITTEN, READY TO SEND TO TH' CHIEF O' POLICE—WHY IS IT YUH NEVER SEE A COP WHEN YUH NEED ONE?

OH-OH! IF HE EVER HEARS MY HEART THUMPIN'—

GOOD EVENING, "DOCTOR" LAHTEL! LOSE ONE OF YOUR PATIENTS?

OH, NO, CLANCY—JUST OUT FOR A STROLL—

NEVER FORGET THAT CRAZY OLD DUFFER I SEEN INSIDE TH' FENCE THERE THAT NIGHT—

AH, YES—POOR OLD HENRY—SAD CASE—ALL WE CAN DO IS BE KIND TO THOSE IN HIS CONDITION—

YEAH—SHOVED A PAPER THROUGH TH' FENCE—SAID TO GIVE IT TO TH' CHIEF—LONG YARN ABOUT HOW YOU WERE A MURDERER—GOIN' TO KILL HIM! CRAZY AS A BED BUG—

OF COURSE! THEY GET FANTASTIC ILLUSIONS—BUT YOU GAVE ME HIS SILLY LETTER—

OH, I'D ALWAYS COME TO YOU WITH THEM THINGS— I UNNERSTAND HOW IT IS— WOULDN'T WANT TO BOTHER TH' CHIEF—

"POOR OLD HENRY"! LEAPIN' LIZARDS! HE WAS ONE O' TH' POOR OLD GUYS WITH INSURANCE! I REMEMBER WHEN HE GOT HIS—

HE KEPT HOLLERIN' THAT TH' POLICE WERE COMIN' TO SAVE HIM—HE FIGGERED THAT COP HAD TAKEN HIS LETTER TO TH' CHIEF— POOR OLD FELLA!

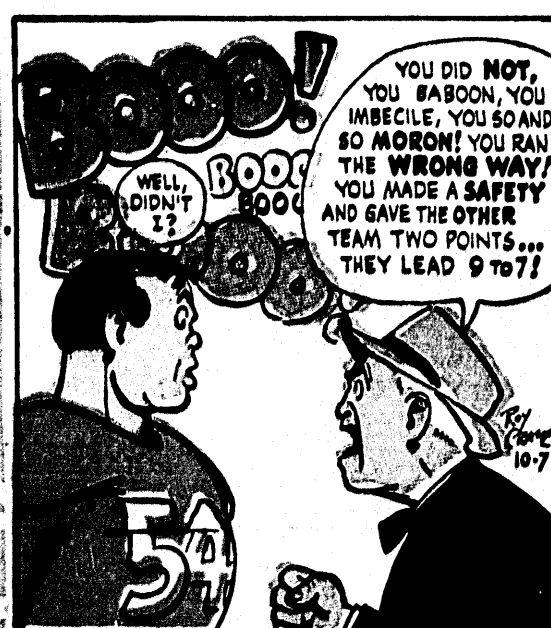

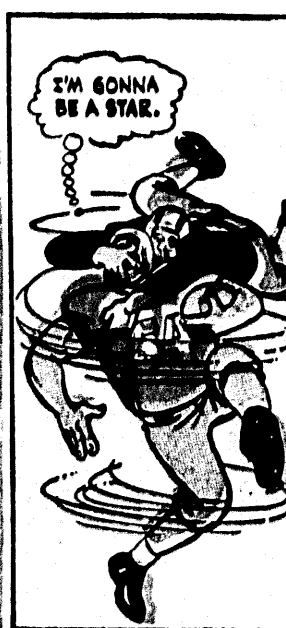

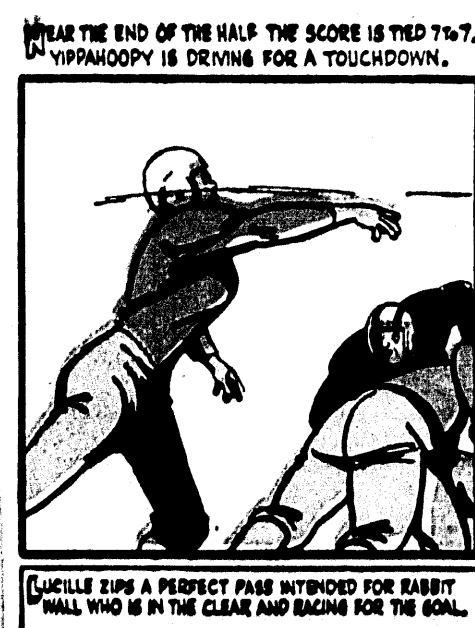

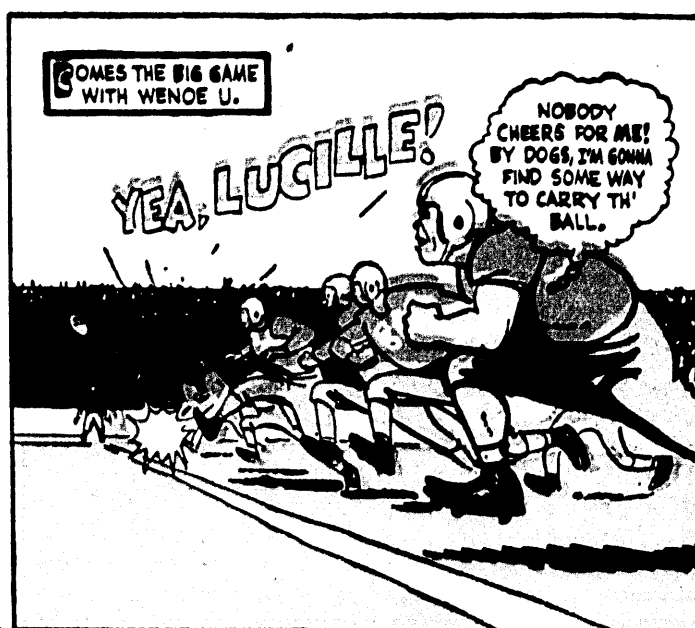

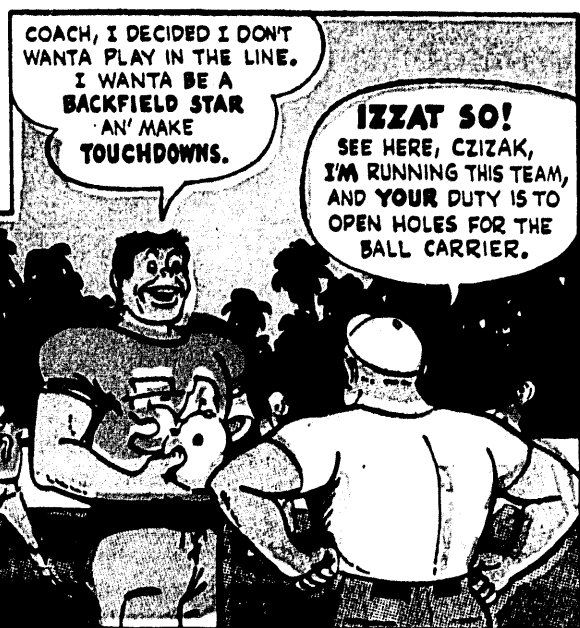

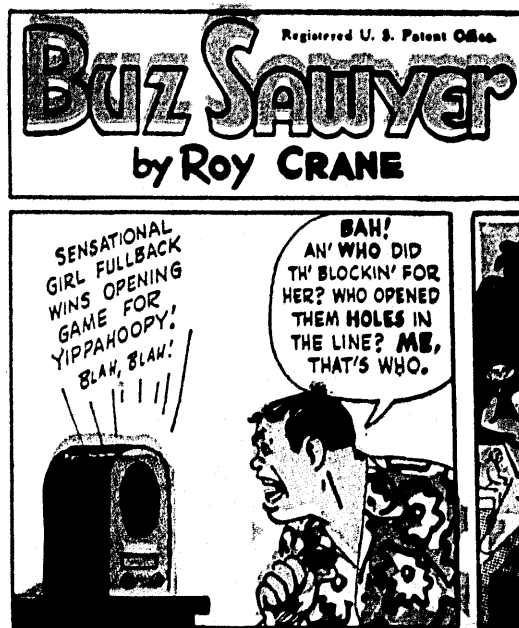

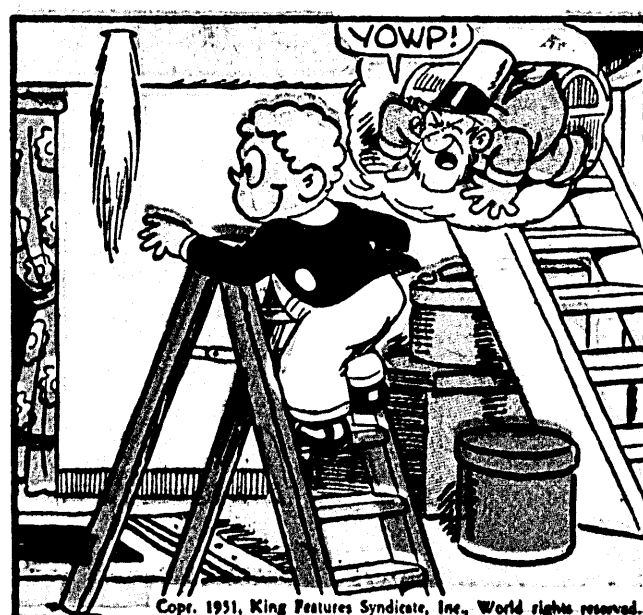

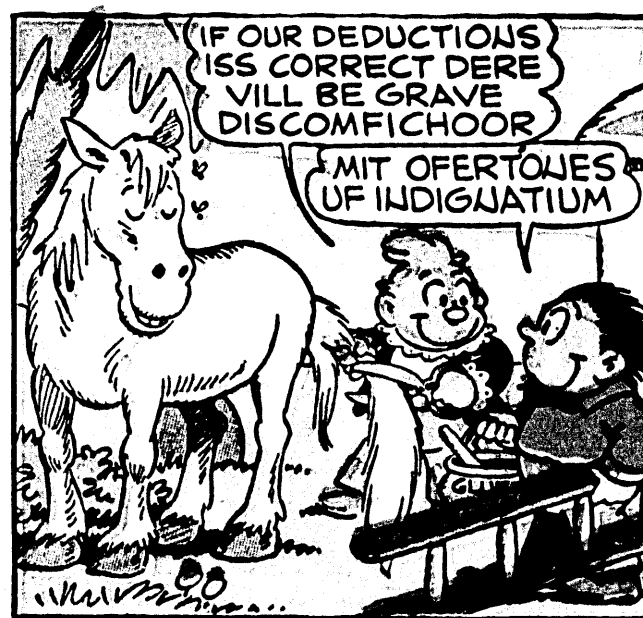

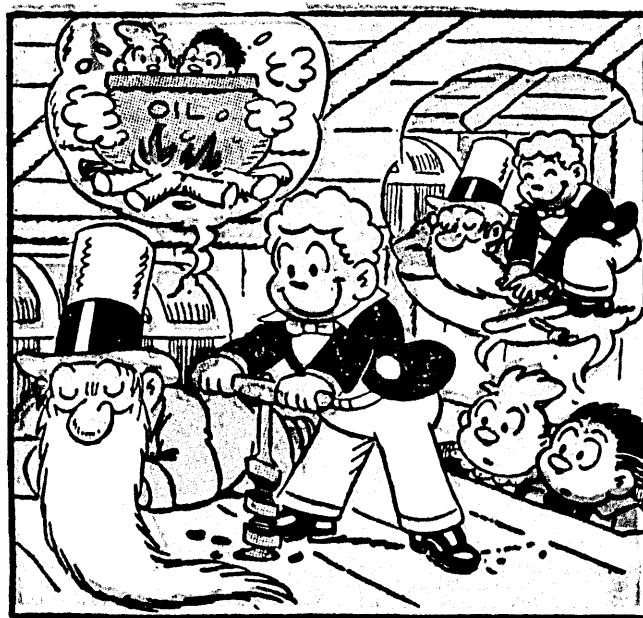

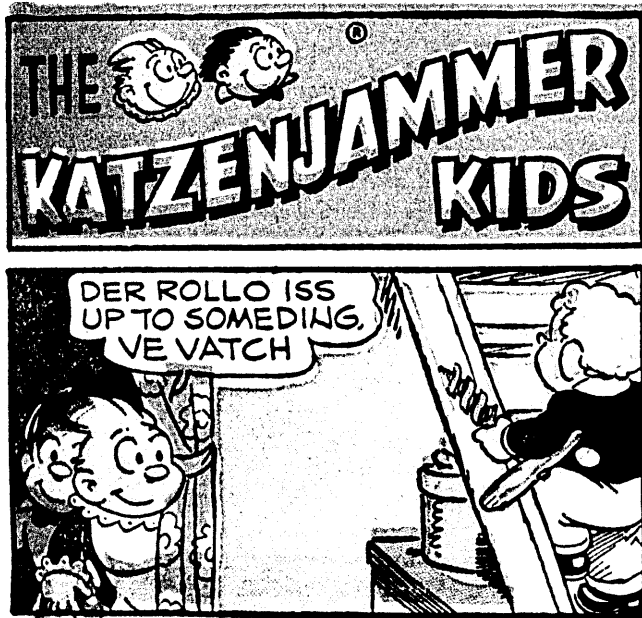

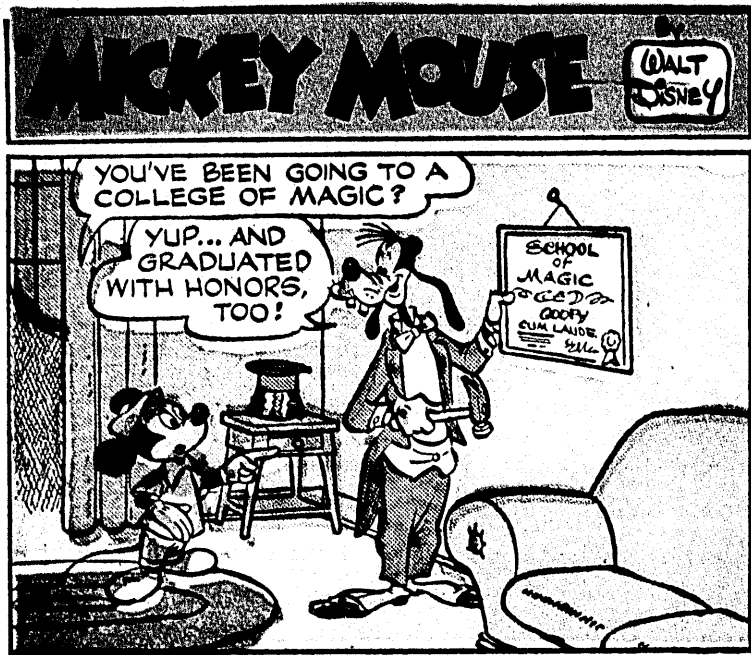

WOW! S'POSIN' I'D SLIPPED MY STORY TO THAT DOPEY FLAT-FOOT! THAT WAS A CLOSE ONE!

BUT WHO CAN I SEND MY STORY TO, WHO'LL BELIEVE ME—OR AT LEAST 'VESTIGATE?

—AND 'NOT JUST TURN IT OVER TO TH' "DOCTOR" FOR TH' LAUGHS!

FLASH GORDON.....by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

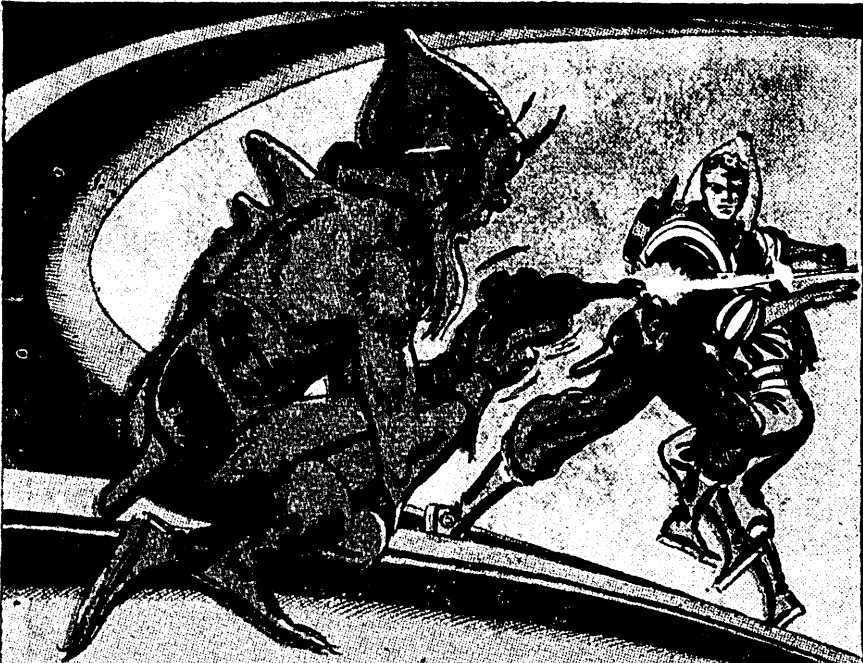

IN THE AIRLESS, DRIFTING SPACE-ISLAND THE THREE HUMANS SEEM DOOMED. ONLY TOXO THE MARTIAN CAN LIVE WITHOUT AIR. AS FLASH SHARES HIS OXYGEN WITH GINGER, DALE WARNS HER: "DON'T GET PANICKY, GINGER. SIT QUIETLY AND CONSERVE YOUR OXYGEN. THERE'S VERY LITTLE LEFT!"

IN DESPERATION FLASH AND DALE SEARCH THE SHIP FOR SPARE OXYGEN TANKS, LEAVING GINGER TO GUARD TOXO. THE WILY MARTIAN TRIES A TRICK. "YOU'RE TOO BEAUTIFUL TO DIE," HE TELLS GINGER. "I'LL SHOW YOU HOW WE MARTIANS USE HYPNOSIS TO LIVE WITHOUT BREATHING. LOOK IN MY EYES... CLOSER... CLOSER..."

SLOWLY GINGER FALLS UNDER TOXO'S HYPNOTIC SPELL. UNABLE TO RESIST HIS COMMANDS, SHE RELEASES THE LITTLE MARTIAN, AND WHILE THE HYPNOTIZED GIRL SLUMBERS SERENELY, TOXO SEIZES HER RAY-GUN AND STALKS FLASH AND DALE.

TOXO SETS AN AMBUSH FOR FLASH AT A TURN IN THE CORRIDOR OF THE SPACE SHIP. BUT FLASH HEARS A FAINT CLICK AS TOXO COCKS THE RAY-GUN. WITH A SUDDEN LURCH, HE PUSHES DALE ASIDE AND DODGES THE RAY BLAST.

BEFORE THE SURPRISED TOXO CAN AIM A SECOND TIME, FLASH OVERPOWERS HIM. THE EARTH PEOPLE ARE SAFE...FOR THE MOMENT. BUT SUDDENLY THERE IS A CRY FROM DALE: "LOOK, FLASH!" SHE SHOUTS. "ROCKET SHIPS!"...ARE THEY RESCUERS FROM EARTH OR ENEMIES FROM MARS? NEXT WEEK - MISSION TO MARS
